COUNCIL IS PEEVED AT SPEECH

Barnard's Words on the Prospective Recall Strike Home

Turner and Anderson Object to Being Criticised

The proposed liquor license ordinance which has been considered only informally for the past several weeks was the subject of a sharp interchange of words between Arthur Arlett, president of the Public Welfare League and Commissioner F. C. Turner and Harry S. Anderson this morning. Arlett had entered the council chamber and was immediately recognized by Turner.

"You make it hard for us to help you," he said to Arlett. "The speech made by Mr. Barnard at your meeting Monday night was a challenge to every member of this council to vote against your ordinance. He had no right to make the statements he did."

"Certainly he had the right," said Arlett. "He had no right to declare that if a member of this council dared to vote against this ordinance, he would recall him. That was a challenge to us to go against him. But he had no right to make it."

"It may not be your opinion but it was his right if he believed it to say so," said Arlett.

"No it wasn't," snapped Turner. "He couldn't recall anybody in the first place. Barnard is not a resident of Oakland. He has no right to talk about recalling officials of this city. I am one of the council who has stood most persistently for this ordinance, but I won't stand for being dictated to and threatened in that manner."

"If you were a councilman, interposed Anderson, 'and some outsider came to you and said, 'Here, do this or I'll recall you.' How would you feel?'"

"Well, it may have been a faux pas," responded Arlett. "But that doesn't affect this issue. If he after going to a vote and you have voted against it, just because Barnard threatened to recall you, that reason won't help you with the people. This matter will be decided on its merits, and not on personal grounds. You will have to meet the issue as it stands."

"Well, can't you work out some way in that Public Welfare League to help us settle the problem, instead of making it more difficult for us?"

The argument closed after some explanation had been given of the intent of the Public Welfare League.

It is understood that the liquor ordinance will be the order of business in the council as soon as Mayor Mott returns. He is expected tonight.

FLYNN MAY LOSE HIS RANK

Accused of Allowing Drinks to Be Served During Dance

Charges End in Wordy Altercation at Local Headquarters

Failure to close the bar during the annual police ball at Idora Park last night resulted today in the suspension of Corporal James Flynn, pending an investigation and the filing of charges that may result in his being disgraced. The trouble caused an altercation between Captain Thorwald Brown and Lieutenant Bert L. Curtis this morning and it is probable that charges may be made against Curtis. Chief Petersen has ordered a rigid investigation of the affair.

When Captain Brown, who had been placed formally in charge of the park after the departure of Chief Petersen last night, received a report that the bar of the grill was being kept running he went in person to investigate. He says he found Corporal James Flynn in charge of a branch bar at the rear of the regular bar with his brother, Joseph Flynn, a bartender dealing out the drinks. The hour was 12 a. m. over two hours after the legal closing time.

BERATES CORPORAL FLYNN. Captain Brown berated Corporal Flynn for having allowed the bar to remain open and informed him that he would prefer charges. According to the report to Chief Petersen Flynn responded insolently and told Brown that it was not his concern and that he had no right to order him around.

Speech made by a uniformed patrolman in charge of the place, and then closed it up placing the liquor under lock and key.

It is charged that Lieutenant Curtis, who was in charge of the North district, in which Idora Park is located, resisted the interference of Captain Brown, when informed of the affair, and remonstrated with him. Curtis is said to have placed Flynn in charge and resented the action of Brown in removing Flynn without consulting him.

FLYNN IS SUSPENDED. Captain of Inspectors Lou F. Agnew was called upon and immediately suspended Flynn. The matter will be made the subject of the most rigid investigation.

"Strict orders were issued that the bar must be closed at 1 o'clock," said Chief Petersen today. "All the time this night had placed a man on the grill and another on the bar at the rear of the grill, to see that the orders were carried out. Captain Brown was placed in charge by me when I left last night and had full authority to take the action he did when he discovered that the bar had not been closed, and that liquor was being sold freely after hours."

"I shall investigate the matter carefully, and discipline the men responsible. I do not wish to say anything as to the facts as I have received only informal reports and they are somewhat contradictory."

The bar is over 200 feet from the location used for the dance. Chief Petersen stated today that the bar was apparently run separately from the Idora Park bar. It is alleged by the authorities that Corporal Flynn was under the influence of liquor. Commissioner Turner authorized a rigid investigation of all charges.

COLLIERY RESCUERS FIND PARTY OF 29

CARDIFF, Wales, Oct. 15.—Rescuing parties searching for the 400 miners still entombed in the Universal colliery got into touch shortly after noon today with a party of 29 men shut in one of the galleries by a fall of coal. They signaled that another group of 15 of their comrades had been closed in further along the galleries but that they probably were dead.

Goodspeed Reported to Have Resigned

Rumors that Rev. Frank L. Goodspeed, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, has insisted that his resignation be accepted, were given wide circulation today. Church circles this afternoon following a report that the efforts of the committee recently appointed by the Oakland Presbytery to settle the dispute between the pastor and church officials had come to nothing.

Rev. Goodspeed refused today to either affirm or deny the rumor. "The matter is in the hands of the committee," he declared, "and out of courtesy to them I can say nothing."

H. H. Gribben, one of the church officers today stated that the resignation so far as he knew had not been insisted on. "This is the first I have heard of the matter," he declared. "I do not know what there is to it."

MRS. PANKHURST CASE PUZZLER

WOULD ADMIT MILITANT

LEADS MRS. PANKHURST

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Mrs. William Lloyd Garrison, one of the most prominent suffragette leaders in the state, would admit Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst if she were the government. Says Mrs. Keith:

"The government ought to remember that, even if Mrs. Pankhurst is an undesirable abroad, she would not be one here. I am not even prepared to consider that she has been an 'undesirable' in England."

Without a more intimate knowledge of English conditions. But even if she were there is no possibility of her starting militant tactics in America, or even of her preaching here, the gospel of militancy.

I believe that Mrs. Pankhurst ought to be admitted to this country. She is a woman of great insight into women's affairs and needs. She is an international character deserving of international recognition."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Commissioner General Cammett of the immigration bureau issued a statement last night defending the attitude of the bureau toward Mrs. Pankhurst, the British suffragette, who is due to arrive here today.

FUGITIVE IN TOILS AT CALEXICO

Prisoner Admits Slaying Rosa Domingo, Says Sheriff

Mystery Clouding Girl's Body in Bay Declared to Be Solved

CALEXICO, Cal., Oct. 15.—Said Ali Khan, the Hindu accused of having murdered the San Francisco waitress, Rosa Domingo, was captured by Sheriff Mobly Meadows here today and taken to the county seat. Meadows said the prisoner had confessed.

Sheriff Meadows received word several days ago that the Sikh had made his way into Imperial Valley after the murder of the Domingo girl. Meadows searched all of the cotton pickers' camps and ranches and finally came upon Khan among a party of Hindu field laborers. Meadows waited a day and took the man into custody shortly before noon today.

Khan made no resistance. His fellow Punjabis viewed his arrest passively.

The sheriff took Khan to El Centro after eliciting a statement in which it was declared the Indian confessed the crime of which he is charged. Khan is now lodged in the county jail at El Centro.

The capture was effected after several days of close watch over the town by the officers. Said Ali, after leaving Richmond, was first traced to Fresno, then on his way south. He was later traced to Oxnard and narrowly escaped capture there, when he left the town.

TAKES OWN LIFE TO END SUFFERING

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—Depressed because of long continued illness, Joseph Levy, who has been living at the Hotel Lynn, Fourth and Minna streets, wrote a letter to his brother, Meyer Levy, an attaché of the Alameda county Tax Collector's office and residing at 447 Lee street, Oakland, wrote a second note to the coroner and shot himself in the temple. He was found dead today, 24 hours after his brother had received the communication telling of his intention to kill himself.

Meyer Levy called at the morgue yesterday leaving tidings of his brother's death and disclosing the fact that he had received word of the intended act of self destruction, but it was not until 11 o'clock this morning that Levy's body was found in a room at 128 Third street. The letter to the coroner, dated October 13, reads:

"My name is Joe Levy. I rented this room for the purpose of ending my life. I cannot live and suffer any longer. Kindly notify my brother, Meyer Levy, 447 Lee street, Oakland, to take charge of my remains. I lived formerly at the Hotel Lynn, Fourth and Minna streets, and I was born in San Francisco February 5, 1855. I have written to my brother to take charge of my remains."

city just 24 hours ahead of the officers, who, sent by Chief of Police Arnold of Richmond on telegraphic notice of his presence, hastened to that town.

A letter written by him from California to the cup and fuse works where he was employed, asking for money due him, was intercepted and gave the next clue to his whereabouts. Officers at once were set to guard the Mexican border, and while the man lay in hiding in the little town Sheriff Veale

Without funds, the man stayed in hiding as long as he could. Today's capture resulted.

CONFESSED IN LETTER.

The man's letters, intercepted by the officials, which gave the first clue to his whereabouts, confessed to the murder, but it was thought this was done to effect the release of Mussah Khan, the roommate of the prisoner, who had been arrested as an accomplice.

"I am not sorry I killed her," ran the letter. "My heart was on fire when she took my money." Other letters were also intercepted at the Stege postoffice and these, too, pointed to his whereabouts.

BODY FOUND IN BAY.

The murder for which Said Ali is held and to which it is said he has confessed, was one of the most brutal in the history of crime about the bay. On the evening of October 4 a couple of boys, swimming near the Richmond cap works, came across the body of 15-year-old Rosa Domingo, daughter of a Stege workman, man, almost nude, and chained to a railroad iron. Simultaneously it was discovered that Said Ali, known to be her sweetheart, had disappeared.

Mussah Kahn, his roommate, was jailed and search of the cabin in Stege, where the two men lived, disclosed the fact that the girl's clothes had been burned in their kitchen stove. Portions of the dead girl's property were identified by her father and two sisters, Mary and Julia.

Chief of Police Arnold and Assistant Chief Ruiz of Richmond, with Sheriff R. R. Veale, at once notified the police of the state and started the man-hunt. As clue after clue piled onto the circumstances indicating the man's guilt he was heard from in Fresno where he was seen by a news agent. Following this his letters were intercepted, leading to his arrest in the south.

VICTIM WAS WAITRESS.

Rosa Domingo was of Portuguese extraction and was employed in San Francisco as a waitress. It was known that she had been in the cabin of the two men on the evening of October 1, believed to have been the night of the murder. Mussah Kahn, when arrested, denied all knowledge of the affair.

Hall Case Brings Prominent Men Into Court on Conspiracy Charge.

April 5, 1904, paid a fine of $25 in lieu of imprisonment for 25 days. Going back to the days of the graft prosecutions in San Francisco, Harron is further accused of having attempted to induce one J. C. Handy to go back to Arizona and swear to a complaint of murder against Francis J. Heney, charging him with killing Dr. Handy, and of offering young Handy $50,000 for his proposed work. This was done in an attempt to embarrass the prosecution of Abraham Ruef, it is claimed, and that the money had been paid. The alleged conspiracy was hatched last January, the answer recites, after a letter written by Elizabeth Hall to her nephew, Frank Hall, had fallen into the hands of R. B. Mott, Attorney Harron, representing Mrs. Ida Heney, charging him with killing Dr. Handy, and of offering young Handy $50,000 for his proposed work. This was done in an attempt to embarrass the prosecution of Abraham Ruef, it is claimed, and that the money had been paid. Elizabeth Hall was summoned from her home in Modesto and interviewed in the office of Attorney Harron by Harron and Marshall B. Woodworth, formerly of the United States district attorney's office, whom she had retained as her attorney upon the admission of her nephew to the bar. Elizabeth Hall is said to have threatened to prosecute Elizabeth Hall for alienating her nephew against his wife and also for sending an unfavorable report to the grand jury.

Spanish Minister Calls a Meeting of Corps to Discuss Huerta

Wilson Confers With Bryan and Senators on Status

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The Mexican situation was regarded by officials here today as a pending crisis. The commanding feature was the action of the Spanish minister in Mexico City calling a meeting of the diplomatic corps to discuss Huerta's assumption of a virtual dictatorship.

The Spanish minister's action drew attention because of the Spanish minister's friendship for Henry Lane Wilson, the former ambassador of the United States to Mexico, and because the Spanish minister never has supported the policy of the United States.

President Wilson discussed the situation with Secretary Bryan and several senators, and later the foreign relations committee of the Senate had a meeting behind closed doors. It was a regular meeting day, however, not called by the department.

WITHDRAWAL OF RECOGNITION. Chairman Bacon of the committee had a talk with the president and expressed the view that even had the United States recognized Huerta, his assumption of the role of dictator would, in his opinion, have been sufficient cause for a withdrawal of recognition. There are no precedents for withdrawing recognition once extended, but diplomats pointed out that it might be accomplished in effect by withdrawing an ambassador.

The instructions delivered by Charge O'Shaughnessy to the authorities at the Mexican capital of Huerta's assumption of dictatorship, were as follows:

"The president is shocked at the lawlessness of the methods employed by General Huerta, and as a sincere friend of Mexico is deeply distressed at the situation which has arisen. He feels it impossible to regard otherwise than as an act of bad faith toward the United States Huerta's course in dissolving the congress and the deposition of the president."

"It is not only a violation of constitutional guarantees, but destroys all possibility of a fair and free election. The president believes that an election held at the present time would be a mockery, and that no election would have any of the sanction with which law surrounds the ballot and that the result therefore could not be regarded as representing the will of the people."

"The president would not feel justified in accepting the result of such an election or in recognizing the president so chosen."

NAVAL REPRESENTATION. Plans for keeping an American naval force in Mexican waters commanded almost equal attention, especially in view of the strained conditions and the desire of President Huerta to have a permit for the presence of American warships be refused renewal this morning. It was made plain that the Washington government was determined to have naval representation ready for an eventual, and some observers thought a step toward a culmination of the situation might be forced over that point.

President Wilson's latest note to Huerta attracted wide attention for its brevity and forcefulness. The Mexican government's reply was awaited with keenest interest.

MEMORANDUM TO FOREIGN OFFICE. MEXICO CITY, Oct. 15.—Nelson O'Shaughnessy, American charge d'affaires, was requested by telephone to call at the Mexican foreign office to hand the minister a memorandum of the cabinet meeting, which discussed the two recent communications from the United States government. These communications, it is reported, contained a warning against the Mexican government's permitting Huerta to come to the Mexican deputies imprisoned by President Huerta and referred to the unconstitutional situation brought about by forcible dissolution of the chamber of deputies.

The American charge went to the foreign office and remained there some time, but afterward declined to talk of what had occurred.

GERMANY'S TACTICAL ATTITUDE. BERLIN, Oct. 15.—The German foreign office is following new developments in Mexico very closely, the same being true of the attitude of the United States government. An absolute free hand in setting its policy without extraneous advice.

The suggestion put forward by some Mexican newspapers that Ambassador Carranza had been in difficult negotiations in regard to Mexico is unfounded.

CARRANZA POPULAR IDOL. CANANEA, Sonora, Mex., Oct. 15.—General Venustiano Carranza, leader of the revolution of the constitution, is still held in high esteem by the people here, during which the city gave itself to a continuous celebration.

On his arrival Carranza was met by a concourse of 10,000 people and was escorted through nine triumphal arches. Upon his departure he was accompanied by a staff of 37 officers, and a large honorary escort of state troops. The general and his staff were to arrive at Nogales on the way to Hermosillo tonight.

DESULTORY FIGHTING. NOGALES, Sonora, Mex., Oct. 15.—After two days of desultory fighting between the federal forces and the forces of Carranza, the battle continued today. The insurgents assailing the federal forces from three sides. The insurgent commanders ordered the attack when they learned that the federal general, Ojeda, had sent a large portion of his forces to the relief of Mazatlan. This information came from a reliable and indiscreet source. The insurgent junta was advised today that the constituarrive in New York the latter part of this week. He said:

"The report that the bureau of immigration or department of labor or any officer of either had decided or intimated that Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst will, on her arrival at New York, be held for examination by a board of special inquiry at Ellis Island is without foundation. The bureau and the department have no power to order admission or rejection except on appeal. At the same time, the coming applicants, under the law and regulations, are independent of the boards of inquiry, as well as of the commissioner of immigration, insofar as holding applicants to appear before the boards of inquiry is concerned, and, in like manner, the boards of inquiry are independent of the commissioner.

"Mrs. Pankhurst will be treated respectfully but just like any other applicant, and this is all any officer of the bureau or department can authoritatively assure."

Officials at immigration headquarters, besieged on one side with protests against Mrs. Pankhurst's admission and on the other with protests against her exclusion, are taking pains not to put themselves in the position of doing anything which might be construed as prejudicing her case.

But the history of the immigration bureau practically discloses that in cases of disputed landings the immigration is invariably examined by a special board and that, of course, means detention at the Ellis Island station. Officials familiar with the administration of the immigration law expect that to be Mrs. Pankhurst's situation when she lands and for that reason Commissioner Gammett has collected a record of the suffrage leader's activity for the assistance of the officers who will be called upon to decide whether she is inadmissible to admission to the United States.

Various suffrage headquarters here, it is known today that attorneys who have represented the National Woman's Suffrage Association before congress are preparing to appear for Mrs. Pankhurst before the immigration examiners.

SENTENCED FOR ARSON. CAMBRIDGE, Eng., Oct. 15.—Miss Miriam Pratt, a militant suffragette school teacher of Norwich was sentenced here today to 18 months' penal servitude for setting fire to a house in 1911. The fire caused great damage to one of the university laboratories.

TRIES TO REACH KING. LONDON, Oct. 15.—A futile attempt to reach King George and Queen Mary was made by a militant suffragette, Miss Margaret Sterling, as their majesties were on the way to the wedding of Prince Arthur of Connaught and the duchess of Fife. The young woman broke through the line of police, waving a petition but she was arrested.

SEFFRAGETTE STOPS CAR. BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct. 15.—During the parade of suffragettes here last night a motorman attempted to pass the ranks of the marchers by running his car through them. Mrs. George Topliff of this city planned an American flag between the tracks and dared the motorman to run it down. She kept it there until the parade was over and the car was cheered.

DEFENDS CLAUSE IN TARIFF BILL. WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Representative Underwood, of the White House called today defended the five per cent clause of the tariff law giving a discount to imports in American ships by declaring it was merely a return to the original Democratic doctrine of Madison and Jefferson and would rehabilitate the American merchant marine.

"I am not hunting a trade war," said Underwood, "but the president has the right to cancel any trade agreements we have that might conflict with this provision. The five per cent clause is not nearly as drastic as the maximum and minimum provision of the Payne-Aldrich law. I do not believe in subsidies. The shipper of merchandise under this arrangement would get the five per cent reduction and the ship owner would benefit by the increase of business, both of which objects are desirable."

nationalist army of Sinaloa had taken Rosario and constituted Mazatlan, cutting off that city's water supply. General Rivera, constitutional governor of Sinaloa and commander of the insurgent forces, advised General Carranza at Cananea today that his wireless operators outside of Mazatlan had picked up federal aérograms to General Ojeda at Guaymas which revealed the fact that the garrison of Mazatlan now numbered only 700 men.

DID BRYAN REQUEST ORDER? EAGLE PASS, Texas, Oct. 15.—A report persisted here today that the war department was planning the federal general, Joaquin Maas, at Pledras Negras to pass through American territory to Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, came directly from a request of Secretary of State Bryan on the war department.

General Maas left Eagle Pass today en route to Laredo. To avoid demonstrations on the American side General Maas ordered a special train to meet his party at the international railroad bridge.

THREE NEW INSPECTORS. The ordinance proposed to create the position of three inspectors on brick work for the whole row under construction was introduced this morning by Commissioner of Public Works H. S. Anderson at the request of other members of the council.

Commissioner Anderson declared that he still considered the demand for the employment of the inspectors unreasonable. The matter was passed over for consideration tomorrow.

FILIPINOS SELECTED FOR PHILIPPINE COMMISSION. WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—President Wilson and Secretary Garrison selected five Filipinos today for the Philippine Commission, but withheld their names until the nominations go to the Senate tomorrow. A vice-governor, secretary of the interior and secretary of commerce and police, all Americans, remain to be selected. The rearrangement of the personnel of the commission to give the natives a majority in the commission, which is the upper house of the legislature, is the first step in President Wilson's policy of ultimate independence for the islands.

BILL BOARDS TO DEFACE ALAMEDA

Council Votes in Favor of the Unrestricted High Sign Ordinance.

One Man Stands Out Against Introduction of Something People Oppose.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 15.—Councilman

ing of the city council last night introduced a new ordinance that took practically all the restrictions off the billboards. There is nothing in the ordinance that limits the nearness of the billboards to dwellings or property lines. Under the new measure billboards may be erected upon any lot in any part of town, the only restriction being as to its height, which is limited to 12 feet.

Councilman E. B. Bullock moved an amendment to the Stewart ordinance, but his motion failed for want of a second.

"I believe we are here to represent the people, not the billboard people," said Bullock. "The most important restriction, those limiting the erection of billboards to lots where there is more than 25 feet between the board and an adjoining house, have been eliminated by this amendment. I say this is a new ordinance and not an amendment."

STRAW ATTITUDE. Councilman Stewart replied "Well, that's what the billboard people wanted."

"I believe we should consider our people first, and then the billboard companies," replied Bullock. "Our people want some sort of protection and I think our duty here is to the citizens of the city and not to outside billboard owners."

Councilman Stewart said he was no lover of billboards. "The ordinance is no ordinance of mine," he went on. "I think the cause of the billboard people is just, and believe the companies are long-headed enough not to see that their boards there will be too many complaints about them."

BULLOCK REPLIES. Bullock replied that he was not in favor of trusting to the long-headedness of the billboard people. "Put everything in writing," he said, "and then our citizens will know what we have done."

Councilman Stewart moved for a continuance, but the motion received no second. Councilman Hammond made a motion that the Stewart ordinance be adopted as read. The motion was seconded and carried. Bullock's vote being the only one recorded against the measure.

Whether Councilman E. B. Bullock will be the only supporter of the anti-billboard contingent of the city of Alameda will be a matter that is largely to be decided by Mayor Frank Otis. The mayor announced this morning that, following the new billboard ordinance adopted at a meeting of the city council last night, he will take time to study the ordinance, implying that he is not altogether in favor of the regulation as passed.

Whether a veto will be the "sanction" that he gives it or not, Mayor Otis refused to say. He did say that in the ten days allotted for his signature, he will give the matter his closest attention.

PROMINENT BUSINESS MEN ARE INDICTED

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Oct. 15.—John B. Thomas, president of the Bank of Willow Springs; Claude Daniels, president of the Daniels Company; Frank B. Warner, president of the Mountain View Produce Company; and Marion W. Rose, manager of the Daniels & Rose Commission Company, were indicted yesterday by the United States Grand Jury here for using the mails to defraud.

The alleged frauds involved thousands of dollars, collected in 15 cities, from commission merchants of New York, Chicago, San Francisco, Boston and other large cities.

Commission merchants from large cities in every section of the country testified before the Grand Jury.

JOHN FALLON, LABOR LEADER, IS DEAD

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 15.—John Fallon, a member of the National executive board of the United Mine Workers of America, died here last night of peritonitis, following a long illness. He was an active labor leader and had participated in the settlement of every general coal strike in the last fourteen years.

His death was a great loss to the labor movement.

WILL WORK WITH PROBATION OFFICE

Court Appoints Deputy Officers Without Pay for Two-Year Term.

Judge Ogden of the juvenile court has approved the appointment of several deputy probation officers for the coming two years, as made by the probation officer and approved by the probation committee, the deputies to serve without pay. Mrs. Francis B. Lemon and Miss Grace Graham of the Oakland Associated Charities, Miss Mabel Wood of the Berkeley Charity Society, Miss Bertha Wright of the Baby Hospital Association, Mrs. W. T. Morton of the Catholic Ladies Aid Society, Marshall W. J. Ramage of Hayward, John Perry of the San Leandro public school, Adjutant J. B. Stanley of the Salvation Army Industrial Home, and Children, not the prevention of Juvenile Delinquency, are included in the list. The appointees are all regular social workers who are authorized as deputies to co-operate with the probation officer and juvenile court with power to appear as officers of the court and as such to make reports on their own signature. It is the announced aim of the juvenile court to make all possible legitimate use of private agencies and to encourage the solution of as many cases as possible in the home, rather than in the court, and otherwise, without a court record.

UNITE TO FINANCE STATE HIGHWAY

Agreement Reached Calling for County Co-operation of Tulare and Fresno.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 15.—Southern California counties have united to finance the construction of the California state highway through the Tulare pass, provided the county government officials of Tulare and Fresno agree to similar purchase state highway bonds to keep the construction of the unit from Bakersfield to Fresno, according to an announcement yesterday at the office of the California highway commission. The project was approved by the highway commissioners, Darrington, by representatives of interested counties south of Tehachapi. The construction work will involve millions between Fresno and Los Angeles.

If the project is put through a completed highway from Sacramento to San Diego can be built in time for the opening of the exposition. The highway commission announces it has found it necessary for county co-operation if the main trunk of the $18,000,000 highway system are to be completed by 1915.

DREAMS OF WEALTH. GETS VERY SWIFT JAR

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—Gino Varnosky, a tailor, got tired working at his trade for $12 a week and embarked in high finance. For six days he thought and talked in millions, wrote letters to and received emissaries from San Francisco, and in the end he was a kind of money bag with Varnosky.

Detectives Burke and Bailey went yesterday to Varnosky's office, 216 Kohn building, and arrested him on a charge of larceny. Varnosky was put in jail in lieu of $20 bail.

"Five years I have spent my nights studying high finance," he said. "I had $100 saved. I hired an office, bought a desk and chair, for $10 and started in."

"I thought if I could just get started I would get a name. Then perhaps a wealthy widow would turn up and I would marry her. There was nothing crooked about the scheme."

Among others, Varnosky sent a letter to Edward J. Gallagher, a contractor in the Crocker building asking Gallagher if he was willing to risk $5000 to make $1,000,000. Gallagher sent some advice down to Varnosky. The police were notified, and Burke and Bailey paid him a visit.

BOY HIKERS JAILED; PET BEAR CAUSES TROUBLE

PAULO ALTO, Oct. 15.—After covering 85 miles of the cross-continent hike, J. J. Doran and Don Davies, the two young men who left San Francisco last week with a tame bear, landed in the county jail last night and the bear was taken to a veterinarian in Mountain View. The boys arrived at Palo Alto Sunday with the bear, which was already showing the effects of the roads. Mrs. Isabelle C. Merriam, county humane officer, had the hikers arrested last night. They claim to be advertising the 1913 fair and working their way across the continent by selling postcards.

SOLDIER RETURNS; WAS 'WOUNDED IN ISLANDS'

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—Bearing the scars he received from a bolo, and also the weapon with which they were inflicted by a Moro fanatic, Robert A. Tracy, a private in Troop E, Eighth Cavalry, returned yesterday from the Philippines on the army transport Sherman. Tracy was one of the heroes in the battle which followed an attack by the head-hunters on an outpost near Jolo several months ago. In the engagement two American soldiers were killed and three wounded, while the 10 Moros who made the assault paid for their madness with their lives.

NAMELESS SKELETON THOUGHT ENGLISHMAN

The man whose skeleton was found on the Hogback trail on Mt. Tamalpais Sunday was undoubtedly an Australian or an Englishman and is believed to have been a man of means.

The only clue to the identity of the man is a fragment of a handkerchief bearing the laundry mark, "53 P." The overcoat was of English manufacture. The watch was made by Thompson & Ketchen

SAN FRANCISCAN NAMED TO HEAD STATE BOARD

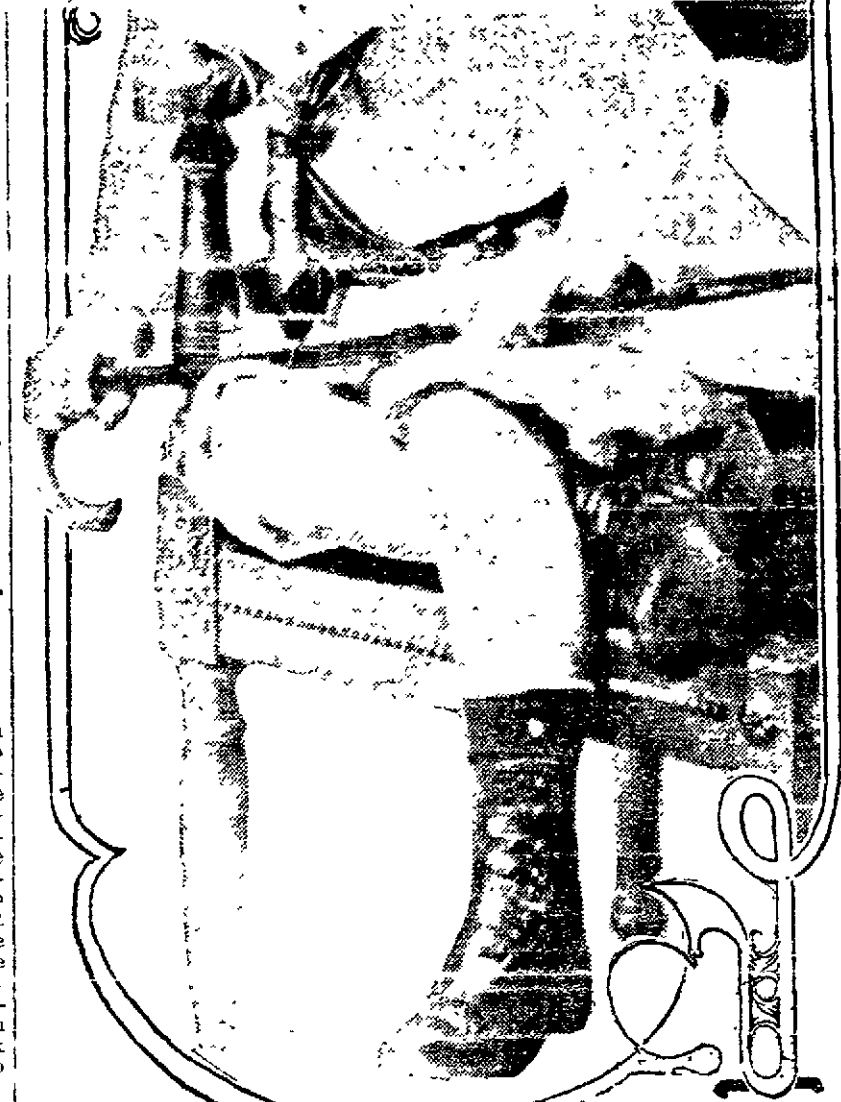

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 15.—Dr. Charles Vandenberg of San Francisco was elected president, and Dr. Fred Gundrum of Sacramento, vice president of the State Medical Board at the annual meeting held yesterday. Dr. Vandenberg was chosen by five votes over Dr. S. H. Buteau of Oakland, who received three votes.

4-Year-Old to Tour World

Oakland Boy on Long Jaunt

HARRY HANSEN, FOUR YEARS OLD, WHO WILL LEAVE SOON FOR A TOUR OF THE WORLD.

To tour the world at four—that is what one Oakland boy, Harry Hansen, is being given for four-year-old Harry Hansen, who will leave for Europe November 1 on the "Imperator," for a year's sojourn in the old country. He will be accompanied on the journey by his aunt, Mrs. Catherine Storgaard, of this city. Harry is the son of the late Captain Harry Hansen and Mrs. Anna Hansen of 522 Thirty-third street.

Recently Mrs. F. C. Larsen entertained a company of young folks at her home, 522 Thirty-third street, where many of his playmates bade him goodbye. Among those who wished the host a bon voyage were Christiana Smith, Fred Smith, Miss Norma Jensen, Miss Janice Clark, Miss Virginia Clark, Miss Eva Josephsen, Russell Long, Arthur Coussins, Russell Bergeman and Newman Jensen.

GIRLS PROVE GYMNASTICS SAVED ROOSEVELT'S LIFE

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Some interesting details of how gymnastics saved the life of Theodore Roosevelt were related today by some of the 400 girls who celebrated last night the opening of one of the city's new recreation centers. Mrs. Douglas Robinson, who is Colonel Roosevelt's sister, acted as his proxy in addressing the girls since he had gone to South America, and amused them with a story which one of the young women took down as follows:

"It was exercise that saved my brother's life. When he was a tiny child he was so ill with asthma that no one thought he would live, but my father said Theodore must live and fitted up the third story of our house as an open-air gymnasium. There we stayed all day. I remember once when my father arrived on the scene just as Theodore and I had fixed a saw-saw over the hall-staircase, and my brother was just climbing out on the end that hung over the court yard three stories below.

"I don't tell you that as an example to be followed, but I want to impress upon you that systematic exercise gave my brother the strength to do and to bear. It isn't what our life is that matters, it is the courage we bring to it."

MOTHER DISCOVERS CHILD IN VISION

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 15.—It was a dream that told Mrs. G. A. Patterson of Kansas City that her daughter, Eva, was residing in Portland. Nine years ago she lost all trace of the girl, who was then 5 years of age, and her search proved unavailing until she followed a dream and communicated with Chief of Police Clarke of Portland by wire. He immediately located the girl and the mother came on to Portland to claim her.

The statement was made by Mrs. Patterson when she appeared before Judge Judge Gaters yesterday to make application for the girl. The separation occurred in Kansas City when Mrs. Patterson and her husband, Maddox, were divorced. The father was awarded the custody of the child and soon afterward disappeared.

Both Maddox and the girl were in court. Mrs. Patterson says she is remarried and offers a good home and education to the girl. Maddox is willing.

SAN JOSE NOW CLAIMS BOY TRIPLETS' RECORD

SAN JOSE, Oct. 15.—Los Angeles does not get the record for having the first triplets born in the United States in a matter of a century after all. Triplets were born to Mrs. O. H. Werner of this city on August 2, 1910. They were Roger, Henry, four and three-quarters, and Robert Clinton, four and one-half pounds.

Mrs. Werner yesterday claims the record for twenty-four years in the United States. Dr. D. A. Perlin was the physician. Richard Henry did not live.

IDAHO-OREGON TOWNS FEEL TREMBOR SHOCK

BAKER, Ore., Oct. 15.—A severe earthquake of more than a minute's duration was felt at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Seven Devils country along the Snake river in the Idaho-Oregon line. The towns affected are Homestead, Ore., and Ballard's Landing, Landore and Cuprum, Idaho.

Telephone lines were put out of commission and reports are meager. Stoves and dishes were rocked out of place, windows broken and some houses thrown out of plumb.

PASTOR TO TEACH ARTS OF TERPSICHORE

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The Rev. George D. Hadley, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, Jersey City, is arranging to open a school of modern dancing, where the young people of the Bergen section may learn the latest steps. He says he believes that one can be modern even in dancing "without being a bore, or a 'bunny' or a 'turkey'." Among the chaperones are Mrs. James Fielder, wife of Governor Fielder.

TO PROTECT MIGRATORY BIRDS IN UNITED STATES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Machinery to put the law into operation November 1 for the protection of migratory birds in the United States now for the first time under federal protection, is being set in motion by the Department of Agriculture. There will be co-operation with state game commissioners and other state authorities to prevent complications.

SEVENTEEN federal inspectors have been named for the districts into which the country has been divided, several in the West being experienced employees of the department. The work of organization will start first in the middle states, the northwest and the Pacific coast.

LIEUT. COLONEL FUGER DIES IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Lieutenant Colonel Fuger took part in thirty-six battles in the Civil war and received recognition and thanks from Congress for bravery in the battle of Gettysburg when, the sole survivor of his battery that faced Pickett's famous charge, he saved his gun. The body will be interred to Arlington cemetery tomorrow with full military honors.

NEW MOVE MADE IN ELECTRIC WAR

Train Service From Chico to Oakland Is Inaugurated.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 15.—The Northern Electric and Oakland, Antioch and Eastern railways will make the third move in the warfare inaugurated between the steam and electric roads in the Sacramento valley, when a general change in the running time of the former companies' train between Chico and Oakland, the Sacramento, will take effect Monday, October 20.

A new train to the bay, which will be known as the Bay City Limited, will make the run from Chico to Sacramento in two hours and thirty minutes. From Sacramento it will continue to Oakland over the Oakland, Antioch and Eastern tracks.

It is expected that at least an hour will be cut off the time from Chico to Oakland.

The Limited will go through Marysville and connect with Oroville and Colusa at transfer points. The returning time of the bay city train de luxe will be announced from this to Sacramento office of the Oakland, Antioch and Eastern tomorrow.

It is emphatically denied that the two electric roads have any agreement pending consolidation has been made or is contemplated.

AD. MEN ENJOY BUSINESS TALKS

Luncheon Proves Interesting and Educational to Association Members.

Those who were fortunate enough to attend the luncheon of the Oakland Advertising Association Tuesday were treated to a three-star program that for real brilliancy will be hard to outshine.

C. C. Barnhart held the undivided attention of those present with a very able and thoughtful paper on "Originality in Advertising." Barnhart showed himself to be thoroughly conversant with his subject and pointed a concise and logical lesson to every one that uses advertising space. "Originality in advertising," Barnhart pointed out, is direct and simple honesty combine to make sales and build business."

Edward F. Trefz, field secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, spoke very entertainingly upon "Truth in Advertising."

W. H. Maxwell Jr. of the London Times addressed the members with regard to the completion of the Panama canal and its relation to Pacific coast commerce and immigration.

President Fleming reported that the sale of tickets for next Monday's theater party was progressing at a very gratifying rate and that every indication pointed to a full house.

POST STREET CARS ARE BARRED FROM MARKET

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—The city won a victory over the United Railroads yesterday when Judge Murasky decided that the Post street franchise of that company extends to the outer line of Market street only, and therefore the company cannot run its Post street cars down Market street.

Some years ago the United Railroads put in a switch connecting their Post street car line with the Market street tracks. When plans were made to extend the Geary street cars to the Ferry over Market street the city notified the United Railroads that it would have to remove the Post street extension.

The United Railroads refused to remove the switch, asserting the franchise, which reads "connecting the intersection of Post street with Market street," meant commencing at a point in the middle of Market street.

The city began tearing up the tracks and was stopped by an injunction sued by the railroad company, which then brought suit to have the courts determine where was the "intersection of Post street with Market street."

Judge Murasky holds that the "intersection" is the outer line of the street and not the center of it.

BIRDMAN SMASHES WORLD'S AIR RECORDS

JOHANNISTHAL (Germany), Oct. 15.—Victor Stoeffler, in a 100-horsepower biplane, has beaten the world's record for a flight covering the period within 24 consecutive hours. He started from here shortly after midnight in competition for the chief prize of the national aviation subscription to be awarded for the longest European flight of the season. He landed at Mulhausen at 12:42 yesterday morning, having covered 1375 miles. His actual flying time was 32 hours and 47 minutes.

Stoeffler flew from Johannisthal to Posen and returned here. Then he flew to Mulhausen and continued to fly back and forth between Mulhausen and Darmstadt, making this trip four times.

REDUCTION OF GRADE ON MISSION ROAD AGITATED

The project for reducing the grade of the Mission San Jose Warm Springs road, as recently urged before the board of supervisors, is now being agitated by the California Automobile Association. It is probable that the improvement will be made out of the general county road fund.

Some time ago Supervisor D. J. Murphy urged that the work be done and submitted a resolution. The matter was laid over to decide on which fund should be used.

Henry Lachman of Mission San Jose yesterday took a number of guests over the road, these including members of the Chamber of Commerce and Commercial Club. It was through Lachman that the matter was brought to the attention of the automobile association.

WILL TRY OFFICIALS FOR NEW HAVEN WRECK

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Oct. 15.—State's Attorney Judson stated last night that the trials of former President Charles H. Mallen of the New York, New Haven & Hartford road and ex-Vice-President McHenry in connection with the fatal Westport wreck, would begin at the February term of the Superior court before Judge Tuttle.

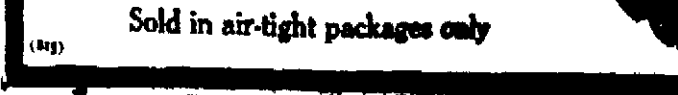

After the wreck more than a year ago Mallen and McHenry were arrested and charged with manslaughter. Their cases were assigned to trial several times, but were postponed.

WOMEN FROM JURY FOR COBURN VOTED 20 YEARS, ALTHOUGH ALIEN

Millionaire Displeased With Rulings of Court.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—Loren Coburn, millionaire landowner of Pescadero, who seeks restoration to competency, expressed himself as being sorely disappointed yesterday when Superior Judge George Cabanis, sitting for Judge Buck in Redwood City, sustained opposing counsel by ruling women from serving on the jury.

When the case was continued, at the end of the day, to Thursday morning there were eleven jurors in the box subject to challenge, but none accepted.

JULIAN HAWTHORNE IS FREED; TERM COMPLETE

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 15.—Julian Hawthorne, the writer, completed his term in prison here last night at midnight, when he took off the prison uniform and prepared to leave for New York on the 6 a. m. train.

Hawthorne is the picture of health, having gained more than thirty pounds since he was admitted to prison on a charge of using the mails to defraud. "I have nothing to say concerning my future plans," said the writer. "I am going to New York and will arrange for the future there."

LATEST NEWS FROM RICHMOND

SALOON LICENSE STIRS COUNCIL

Richmond City Fathers Refuse to Grant New Ones to Applicants.

RICHMOND, Oct. 15.—The city council met in regular session last night for the first time in two weeks, having been away to a state convention at Venice for a week. Everybody was present but Councilman Perry and Engineer Chapman, who were out of the city. The saloon skeleton was taken from the municipal chest and placed on the table.

The council was satisfied with the saloon license situation and proposed last night to put a stop to it. The application of English & Hagerty for a new license to operate a bar in a new hotel building at Sixteenth street and Macdonald avenue, was denied, it being the policy now of the council to grant no new saloon licenses to anybody in Richmond. The ordinance on the subject provides that where a license is granted to a hotel and the hotel is closed, the license shall be void.

ATTACKED AND FLOORED BY BLOW WITH BLACK JACK

FRUITVALE, Oct. 15.—Using a black jack, a CUBS man last night attacked Arthur Littlejohn, a member of the Cinematograph Operators' union, who was standing outside the Star theater in Fruitvale. Littlejohn was knocked down by a violent blow on the face. He was not seriously injured.

OAKLAND WOMAN LOSES HER SEALSKIN SACQUE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—A sealskin sacque valued at $250, the property of Miss Florence Moore, 447 Rose street, Oakland, was stolen from her while she was visiting at 342 Mason street last night. She reported the theft at the Central police station.

IMPROVEMENT WORK

A resolution ordering work on A. B. and C. streets, was passed, bids to be received October 27.

Bids will also be received October 27 for further improvement of Ashland avenue.

Bids will be received October 27 for the job of constructing sewers in Lucas avenue, Ninth and Tenth streets, Twenty-first, Twenty-second and Twenty-third streets and Balboa avenue.

ROUTINE BUSINESS

A complaint was filed with the council against the street work done on Eighth street between Barrett and Pennsylvania. The matter was referred to the street committee and the city engineer.

A petition for an arc light at Clinton and Twelfth streets was referred to the light committee.

Jack Martin was granted permission to move his frame building at Third and Macdonald avenue on to an adjoining lot where a new brick building is being constructed.

A petition for the improvement of Leboe avenue was referred to the street committee and upon Follett's motion that all claims passed by the finance committee be paid, council adjourned to meet next Monday night.

RICHMOND REALTY MAN GETS TO YEARS' PROBATION

RICHMOND, Oct. 15.—Yesterday afternoon Superior Judge R. H. Latimer took up the matter of the petition of Bert Farris, the Richmond realty man who had pleaded guilty to the charge of defrauding Honisberger of Berkeley of $350 on a fraudulent real estate deal and after hearing the report of Probation Officer McMahon and a plea on the part of Major D. W. McLaughlin of this city, who promised to give Farris a position in his employ, Judge Latimer admitted Farris to probation for a period of ten years.

The conditions of the parole are that Farris must not in the ten years' probation enter a saloon, gambling place or house of questionable repute. He must live in a frugal and economical manner in order to repay the Berkeley woman whom he defrauded, in installments. He is also to pay off other indebtedness arising from his realty deals in this city and vicinity, and must report at stated periods to the probation officer, and his conduct will have to be beyond reproach during the next ten years. This is the longest probation period ever imposed on a defendant by a court in this county. Probationary periods are generally for the same length of time that a sentence would have been pronounced. The friends of Farris will have to make a strong plea for giving him a chance to redeem himself and believe that he will make good.

SMART SET AT WHIST IN THE SEQUOIA CLUB

RICHMOND, Oct. 15.—One of the most elaborate whist parties given this year in local society circles was that which was held yesterday evening at Sequoia hall at which Mrs. Harry Adkinson, Mrs. E. X. Tucker, Mrs. W. T. Haines and Mrs. J. J. Davis were the hostesses. The clubrooms were beautifully decorated for the occasion in ferns and yellow chrysanthemums and following the card play the best of refreshments were served. Miss Ellen Tucker and Miss Davis acted as score girls for the occasion. Two parties were attended by close to a hundred guests, many being present from San Francisco, Oakland and Berkeley. RICHMOND HAS BOLD BURGLARY

Daring Thief Enters Home and Gets Away With $500 in Plunder.

RICHMOND, Oct. 15.—A daring burglar entered the home of Stephen E. Woods at 1111 Macdonald avenue yesterday morning before the family had awakened and after ransacking the house made good his escape with $500 worth of valuables. The police undertook to suppress the story in hopes of landing the criminal quickly and so the news did not get out until last evening. This is the sixth or seventh bold burglary in the city in the past two months.

Entrance was gained into the Woods home through one of the front windows, the burglar using a box to stand on and prying open the window with some sharp instrument. The first indication of the intruder was the noise of the burglar's foot when on coming down stairs in the morning they found the floor of the parlor covered with clothing which had been taken from the closets. The drawers to dressers and a buffet were ransacked and their contents scattered on the floor, showing that the robber had gone about his work systematically.

The local police were immediately notified and Officers Wright and Phillips were detailed on the case, but the only clues they found were a number of finger prints on the furniture. These are being compared with prints recently taken at the jail under the new Bertillon system. Among the things carried away by the night intruder were two violins valued at $150, several suits of clothing, jewelry, an overcoat and various other articles, bringing the loss to about $500. For some reason of their own the police believe that the thief took an early morning train for some point in the interior.

BERKELEY POLICE HUNT FOR KNIFE WIELDER

RICHMOND, Oct. 15.—Tony Valle, while in a heated argument at a friend's home in Berkeley yesterday, drew a bad-looking knife and before he could be disarmed seriously wounded John Serapio. He ran from the Serapio home to the San Pablo car line and boarded a car for Richmond. Serapio's shouts attracted the attention of several loggers in the place and the Berkeley police were notified of the cutting affray. Detective Jamieson and two motorcycle policemen were detailed on the case, who immediately made a quick dash for this city to their machine. The motorcycle cops caused consternation here by making 60-mile-an-hour time up and down Macdonald avenue in search of their man, but were unable to locate him. The only clue was that Valle had dropped off the car in Richmond, since which time he has completely disappeared.

RICHMOND'S BASEBALL FANS TO REORGANIZE

RICHMOND, Oct. 15.—The fans of this city will meet some evening this week for the purpose of organizing a midwinter baseball league. It is planned to get the various corporations of the city to place a ball team on the local diamond, together with the Polytechnic Business College and the Winchester association. Baseball in this city during the past few years has been on the decline and steps are now to be taken by the local fans to get Richmond represented by a creditable team in the baseball pastime about the bay. Several years ago when Bill Burns, then in the big league, Tom Saiton, also on the salary roll, and Billy Osburne of the Modesto Reds, were Richmond residents, this city boasted of one of the finest ball teams in this section of the state, but with the passing of these veterans the game took a slump and efforts have been made to reorganize and get on the casual map again.

RICHMOND NOW READY FOR PORTOLA PARADE

RICHMOND, Oct. 15.—Commissioner D. A. Knowles, former secretary of the Bay Area Exposition, has completed his plans for the port Richmond will take in the Portola Festival at San Francisco. There are to be about thirty beautifully decorated automobiles in the big parade from here, ten of them carrying a monster letter which, all together, will spell the word "Richmond," and many other novel features are on the program. Among other societies to take part will be the Richmond parlor of the Native Sons and Native Daughters, with a fine band, and a large number of the residents of this city. Knowles is working day and night to make the affair a success. The delegations from here will be very large and will do their part toward making this city known.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in the efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is hot you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy. Take a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

FOR DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR OR ITCHY SCALP--25 CENT DANDERINE

Girls! Girls! Save Your Hair! Make It Grow Luxuriant and Beautiful.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its beauty, its softness and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, lary, scraggy or too oily, get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. It is absolutely reliable.

GREEN RUG FOR WILSON; ERIN'S SON GETS RED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—When a bright green rug was put down in the president's private office yesterday and a lurid red creation was laid in the sanctum of his secretary, Joseph Patrick Tumulty, several of those present could not refrain from commenting on the contrast.

The color scheme was the work of the Secretary Tumulty is a downright loyal Irishman, however, and a great admirer of the chief executive, so he responded to the jeers by saying that nothing was too good for the president of the United States, even though he had to make sacrifices himself. He will content himself by putting a few pressed shamrocks over the mantel.

Commending the Enquirer's Treason.

Members of the Public Welfare League can estimate for themselves how much aid the movement to correct the more glaring evils of the retail liquor traffic has received or is likely to receive from the Enquirer. Those who attended the meeting in the First Congregational Church Monday night have been given an opportunity to gauge the good faith and veracity of our blatherskite contemporary which they can improve or not at their pleasure. Voiding a bile-laden stomach under pretense of reporting the proceedings had at a gathering of estimable people assembled to further a scheme of moral betterment may be taken as evidence of sympathy with a good cause and willingness to aid it by those easily satisfied. But if it be not as lacking in honesty as it is in decency we are mistaken.

If the Enquirer was commended for the support it has hitherto given the movement to reform the saloon business it was wholly undeserved. If the commendation was given in the hope that the Enquirer will amend its ways and do its duty to the community, we trust the device will succeed. But it is to be doubted if a dog can be cured of sucking eggs by feeding him buttered toast. No one has yet succeeded in making a silk purse out of a sow's ear.

Evidently the Enquirer is convinced that if a lie be repeated often enough some will be found to believe it, but it forgets that reiterating something which everybody knows to be false is merely advertising stupidity by mendacity. Every advertiser in Oakland knows the Enquirer's claims of circulation are false, that it blackguards THE TRIBUNE because it has been distanced in the race for popular favor. For years the Enquirer has been leading a hand-to-mouth existence, blustering, bluffing, begging, and lying with shameless effrontery to hide its decay. It makes perjured affidavits to a circulation which its dinky press cannot print, and hires newsboys to give away papers that nobody will buy. It is a fake as a newspaper and a fraud morally. It tells the truth, however, when it says THE TRIBUNE is not in its way. THE TRIBUNE would be ashamed to be in the way of such a cripple. THE TRIBUNE is so far ahead of the Enquirer that there is no competition between the two papers. One is a newspaper; the other is an impudent bluff.

But the issue before the public just now is not the superiority of THE TRIBUNE over the Enquirer, but a question of moral reform. The obvious and straightforward thing to do is to support the efforts of the Public Welfare League to reduce the number of saloons, increase the license and put the liquor business under stricter regulation. No one honestly in favor of that program can afford to stop and quarrel with his neighbor. For our part, we are too anxious to see the Public Welfare League succeed to be diverted into an acrimonious discussion purely business and personal. We have undertaken to help the good people of this town to reform the liquor traffic, not to make the Enquirer decent and honest. We would be glad to see the Enquirer give its support to the Public Welfare League, but if it will not, it is no fault of ours. It may be that the undeserved commendation it has received will make it stand up for the right in this fight, but we fear that it will only encourage the Enquirer to fall flatter than it has yet fallen. But the fight for decency will be won, nevertheless.

What Saloon Reform Means.

The low saloons which THE TRIBUNE would like to see driven out are not ornamental, they are not useful and they are not necessary.

The city would look better if they were closed up, the police would have less to do, and the moral atmosphere would be cleansed.

It is the belief of THE TRIBUNE that the city will be more prosperous in the material sense if it be made better morally. We believe that Oakland will be more inviting to home-seekers and capitalists if we show a higher appreciation of moral values and the clean things of life.

The saloons bring nothing to the city that enriches or ennobles it. They feed on the energies of the people resident here. The stuff they sell is produced elsewhere, and the by-product of its purveying here is entirely evil. If drunkenness, poverty, insanity and crime are things to be desired then the saloons are a benefit. What else do they produce? Can a city be made prosperous by products of this kind?

But the issue does not involve closing up all the saloons. It is proposed to close only the more disreputable half of them. This will leave more saloons than churches in the city. We will still have two saloons to every schoolhouse after reducing the number of grogshops to two hundred. There will still be a saloon to less than one thousand inhabitants. Is not one saloon quite enough for a thousand people? No person need go thirsty for a drink so long as two hundred drinking places are left open. One must look through a whisky glass to see anything like Prohibition in two hundred dramshops. The pretended fear of Prohibition is merely an excuse for opposing a scheme of social betterment which combines moral with physical improvement.

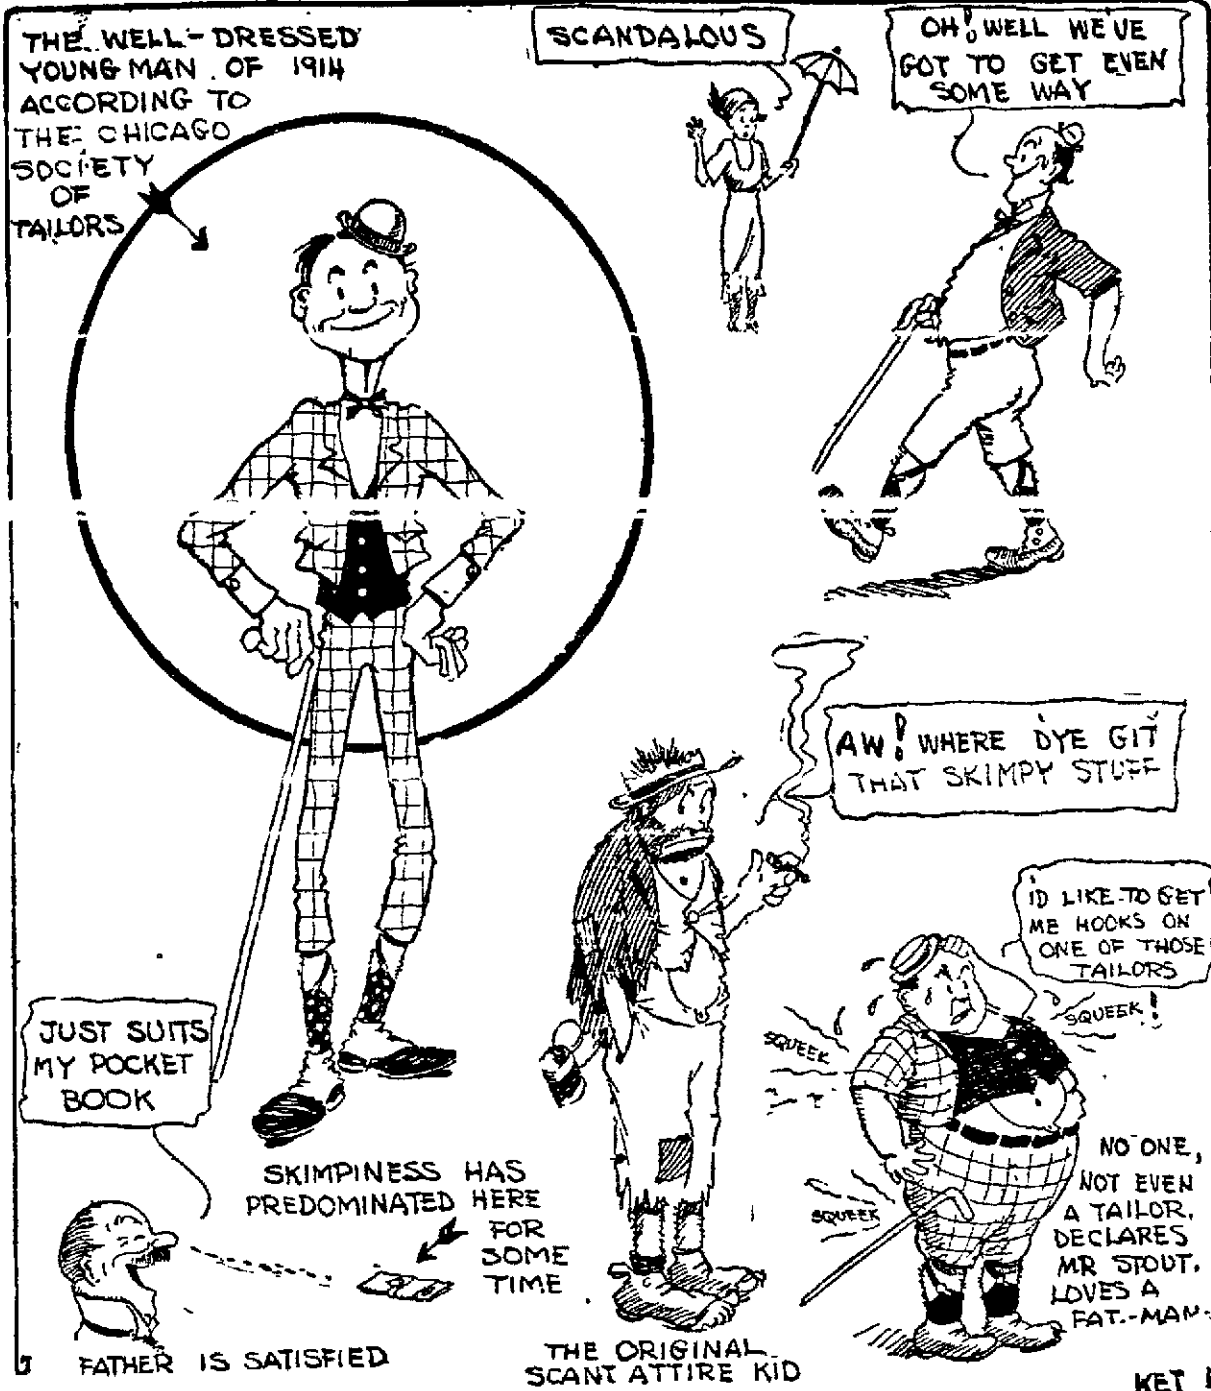

THE TRIBUNE wants to see a bigger, better and braver Oakland. It wants to see a town in which there is no block so thickly studded with saloons that the decent citizen hangs his head in shame when he passes it. We want this town to be clean and tidy, morally as well as physically. We want it to appeal to the man who is looking for a place to build his home and rear his family. We do not want the town to look as if it had taken the grogshop for its symbol and the whisky business as its ideal of prosperity.

The city is defaced and disfigured by the multitude of saloons. They are not good for the town in any sense. They give the city an unwholesome, bedraggled appearance. They indicate that we women, indifferent to moral values and lacking in the sturdier virtues of citizenship. We want Oakland to be a city worthy of its name.

It to be our proudest boast that we have four hundred some of them the dirtiest of their kind? From that relief THE TRIBUNE asks the people of Oakland to relieve

The Apple in California.

California's super-eminence as a producer of citrus and stone fruits has fostered the impression abroad that good apples cannot be grown in this State. The annual apple festival at Watsonville is helping to remove that impression, and the land show in San Francisco is aiding in the good work.

Good apples can be grown in almost every county in California. At the recent festival in Watsonville fine apples grown in Inyo and San Diego counties were displayed. The Inyo wine-saps and Jonathans were awarded prizes. The San Diego apples were remarked for their high color and fine flavor.

No better belle-fleurs are produced anywhere than those grown in the Pajaro valley. But other good apples are grown there—pippins, greenings, Baldwins, Ben Davis and winesaps. Moreover, the apple flourishes in sections of all the adjoining counties. In all the coast counties north of San Francisco choice apples are grown. The Russian river valley is famous for the production of Gravensteins.

Lake county is admirably adapted to apple culture, but the commercial possibilities of apple growing there have not yet been developed to an appreciable extent. Nevertheless, Lake county apples are highly esteemed by all who have had the pleasure of tasting them. An ideal apple country is found in the foothill region of the Sierra Nevada. Almost any kind of apple tree will flourish and fruit generously in the foothill counties. The Spitzenberg produces magnificent fruit in all the elevated plateaus. The winter Pearmain reaches perfection in the northern counties. But apples will grow practically anywhere in this State.

Californians have simply neglected the apple. They turned their attention to growing oranges, peaches, pears, grapes, etc., and made no effort to cultivate the king of fruits. The seedling apples planted by the early settlers fell into neglect, and in most localities no effort was made to plant varieties adapted to soil and climatic conditions, all the attention being bestowed on fruit of other kinds.

But the apple is not to be neglected in future in California. Our people are awakening to its commercial possibilities, also to the advantage this country possesses as an apple country. They are learning an old lesson anew, finding out something they should have known years ago. It has dawned upon them at last that because California is hospitable to the grape, the orange and the olive, it is not hostile to the apple. They are learning something about their own land which it would have profited them to learn a generation ago—namely, that California is one of the best apple countries in the world.

On Sunday while the world was still thrilling with the horror of the burning at sea of the steamer Volturno, a strip of girl twelve years old swam across the Golden Gate in thirty-five minutes. What is the connection between swimming the Golden Gate and the burning of the Volturno? Simply that every boy and girl should be taught to swim. In a shipwreck the girl that swam the Golden Gate would have a vastly better chance of saving her life than a person unable to swim. One man on the Volturno saved his life by jumping into the sea and swimming to the Carmania. He would have had no chance whatever but for his proficiency as a swimmer. Our public schools should be equipped with swimming tanks, and each pupil taught to swim. Swimming is a healthy and invigorating exercise, and a knowledge of the art is an insurance against danger. The swimmer is not afraid of the water, and therefore keeps his head when involved in a marine catastrophe.

Aunt Sally's Advice to Beauty-Seekers

W. C. D. says "My face is freckled the year round nothing I try seems to help much. Is there anything that will really take off these horrid spots?" Have you tried the treatment recommended to Minnie L.?

I've known this to remove very obstinate freckles.

Ellen B. asks: "What should I do to deep lines under my eyes and across my forehead?" Such lines, and all wrinkles, are best obliterated by bathing affected portions in a good astringent and tonic lotion which strengthens and draws in the relaxed tissue. Here's a reliable formula. 1 oz. powdered exaltol, 1/2 pt. witch hazel, mix and use daily until entirely relieved.

Minnie L.: The undue redness as well as the pimples, may easily be removed by using ordinary mercurized wax. Apply thickly like cold cream and erase mornings with warm water. Soon you'll have a beautifully white, clear, soft and velvety complexion. Mercurized wax sold by all druggists. Is better than cosmetics for any complexion trouble. One cent.

THINGS SINGULAR

Sir Francis Galton held that washing when on a journey has its drawbacks. In the "Art of Travel" he remarks that "there is no denying the fact, though it be not agreeable to confess, that dirt and grease are great protectors of the skin against inclement weather, and that therefore the leader of an exploring party should not be too exacting about the appearance of his less warmly clad followers. Daily washing, if not accompanied by oiling, must be compensated by wearing a dog, will sleep out under any bush and thrive there so long as he is not washed, groomed and kept clean. There must be a balance between the activity of the skin and the oils upon it, and where the exposure is greater, there must the pores be more defended."

stones. That was not the only use he made of them—at any rate—if he was a Scythian. The Scythian practice described by Herodotus has been claimed by some as the first recorded case of smothering. Having spoken of a kind of hemp that grew in the country, Herodotus proceeds,

"Now, the Scythians, taking the seed of the hemp, go into their tents and throw the seed upon stones heated white hot. As it is thrown on it is burst into smoke, producing so much that no Greek vapor bath could surpass it. And the Scythians delighting in it, bellow. This takes the place of washing for them." It seems as though they had discovered the Turkish bath and the cigarette.

Some idea of the vast numbers of animals that Africa used to support can be gained from a passage in W. Souley's "Reminiscences." I was in Senegal a good fortune in 1892 to witness the last great trek of springbucks from east to west of the Fushmanland desert—a trek on a scale such as no man will ever see again. Fencing, the increase of population and the distribution of arms have almost exactly the same effect on an immense some twenty feet high, far out on the plains, and seen the absolutely level surface, as wide as the eye could reach, covered with resting springbucks, while from over the eastern horizon the rising columns of dust told of fresh hosts advancing."

RIDICULED FIRST UMBRELLA

Umbrellas were described in early dictionaries as "a portable periborne to carry in a person's hand to screen him from violent rain or heat." Umbrellas appear in the carvings at Persepolis. Niebuhr saw a great Arabian prince returning from a mosque, and each member of his family having a large umbrella carried by their side. Old chinaware shows the Chinese shaded by umbrellas. They were first used in this country in Baltimore brought from India, in 1773. It is said that the first person who commonly carried an umbrella in London was the notorious John Hanway, who died in 1786. John McDonald, a footman, who wrote his own life, said that he had "a fine silk umbrella, which he brought from Spain," but he could not with any comfort to himself use it, the people calling out "Frenchman! why don't you get a coach?" The hackney coachmen and chairmen were clamoring against their rival. The footman says he persisted for three months till they took no further notice of this novelty. Foreigners began to use theirs, and then the English.

CONFESSES TO KILLING OF WINTERS

Lloyd Wilkins Tells of Striking Victim on the Skull.

Pian Was to Overpower Victim and Compel Wife's Address.

PORTLAND, Or., Oct. 15.—In a confession to District Attorney of striking the blow that caused the death of Lou Winters, a real estate agent and professional musician, early Sunday morning, near his home, Wilkins then retraced his steps with the officers, and met the wife of his victim, and later at the morgue, calmly felt the soft place in the skull showing where the fatal blow had been struck.

Wilkins, who was caught early yesterday morning, confessed that he was at Vancouver, Wash., said his first intention was not to kill Winters, his one-time friend. The plan was to overpower and bind him and force him to tell the whereabouts of Mrs. Winters. This plan was frustrated and in the excitement the fatal blow was struck.

Wilkins said he "laid for Winters in the residence section prior to the latter's arrival. Wilkins said he ran across the Winters real estate office, searching for his wife's address. Wilkins said that he used an umbrella to deal the fatal blow, only after he had been chased by Winters, who had the better of the opening encounter. The officers doubt this.

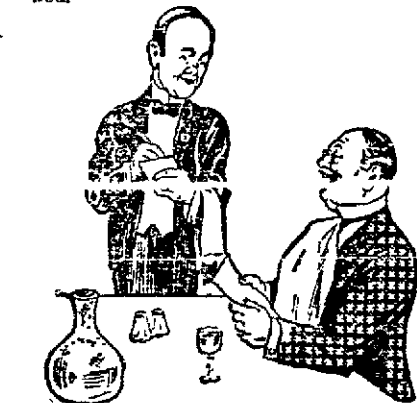

Wilkins said he was driven to the crime because his wife refused to return his love for her, and who was staying away from him. He wrote to his aunt and uncle the morning after the alleged crime was committed, denying guilt pointed to in morning papers.

APPETITE HO! HO!

'TIS A GREAT JOY

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Are the Best Appetite Makers Dyspeptics and Stomach Sufferers Can Use.

Appetite is very largely a series of spasms from the stomach. When one has a nervous appetite at the time, the smell of food, the stomach through its connection with the mind of man is asked whether the food seen or smelled would be welcome.

Waiter—"How's your appetite today, sir?"

Guest—"Bully good. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets make me eat like a horse."

Appetite makes the glands of the mouth open and saliva flows very freely—hence the term "Mouth Water." This is the first digestive juice. It has an important office to perform as all starchy foods are partially digested by it because one of its ingredients pepsin is almost an instant digestive of starch. This process reduces the starch in foods to sugar. The appetite causing a free flow of saliva, aids the stomach by its ability to mix the food eaten with mouth juices which enables it to more readily do its work.

Stuart's dyspepsia Tablets go into the mouth like food, are eaten, then dissolved and fluidized by the saliva. This mass then goes into the stomach and there quickly readjusts the stomach juice so that in a short time food is not offensive and man's appetite comes speedily back to him and he is hungry in a healthy normal way.

By all means use a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet the very moment you feel a loss of hunger. The quick return of appetite to you will convince you quickly that your stomach has been out of order and that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets were the means of restoring its normally healthy condition.

Every drugstore carries Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and no matter where you may be you can always obtain a box anywhere for 50 cents.

THIEVES TRY TO STEAL MACHINE

Fred Starr Discovers Men Rolling Auto From Garage.

HAYWARD, Oct. 15.—Fred Starr of Grace and Pear streets, Hayward, was witness of one of the coolest attempts at a record here for sometime. He heard a noise in his garage in the early hours of yesterday morning and on looking out saw two men trying to roll a car out of the garage.

The thieves had broken the lock of the garage door, and afraid of awakening anyone, had refrained from cranking up the machine. Their attempt to trundle the car out of hearing distance of its owner's house before starting the engine was frustrated when the noise attracted the owner. Constable W. J. Deppa and Constable George Scollins are investigating.

DEPLORES CIVIC COMA AMONG BUSINESS MEN

SAN LEANDRO, Oct. 15.—Secretary W. J. Gannon, of the Chamber of Commerce, deplores the fact that business men are so engrossed in their own affairs that they could not find time to attend the meeting of the chamber this week. Gannon thinks business men are up to the chamber for the welfare of the town, in the way of more attention than it has been receiving of late. Money is also required to carry out several improvement propositions which the chamber has in hand, and also a stronger membership. In view of this it is probable that a membership campaign will be conducted this winter or in the early spring.

STUDENTS OF HAYWARD HIGH ELECT OFFICERS

HAYWARD, Oct. 15.—The student body of Hayward high school elected its officers yesterday. Richard Russell was elected president, Keppel Jones vice-president, LeWitt Lee secretary of the student body and Charles Long secretary of athletics. As is usual in such elections the students were keenly interested in the result. Richard Russell, the new president, is a popular selection for the position. An interesting feature of the election was the rivalry between Keppel Jones and his sister, Miss Mary Jones, for the position of vice-president. Miss Jones was not far behind her brother in number of votes.

MISSION SERVICES BY DOMINICAN FATHERS

SAN LEANDRO, Oct. 15.—Mission services are being held all this week at St. Leander's church by two Dominican fathers from San Francisco. The services started last Saturday and will continue until next Saturday. The order of ritual is the same each day, starting with three masses in the morning, 8, 9 and 10 o'clock. Instruction is given to the children at 2:30 in the afternoon, while at 7:45 in the evening there is a sermon and benediction. Father Lawlor and Father Benedict are the two priests conducting the mission services, which are being well attended by the parishioners.

ENTERTAINS IN HONOR OF MISS LA VERA CONDON

HAYWARD, Oct. 15.—Mrs. J. D. Armstrong gave a party yesterday afternoon at her home on Chestnut street in honor of Miss La Vera Condon, who is leaving here for her home in the east. Luncheon was a feature of the entertainment, while refreshments were served. Those present were Mrs. J. J. Berne, Mrs. E. E. Buzzard, Mrs. John McConaghy, Mrs. Robert Kruse, Miss Mary McConaghy, Miss Mabel Jamison and the Misses M. and P. Gansberger.

POPULAR COUPLE TO WED IN ELMHURST

ELMHURST, Oct. 15.—A popular Elmhurst young couple will be wedded here Wednesday, October 22. Miss Emily Lilian Radcliffe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Radcliffe, of Stonehurst, is the bride elect, while the groom is Herbert S. Magee, a well known business man of Elmhurst. The wedding, which will be witnessed by relatives and close friends of the couple, will take place in St. Louis's church, Elmhurst. Father Wiley and Father Power will officiate.

TAXPAYERS' COLUMN

All Communications to the Editor of THE TRIBUNE must bear the signature and address of the writer.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: I wrote you on the 6th inst. relative to our waterfront and not having seen my letter published in THE TRIBUNE until this afternoon am hastening to apologize for my personal letter of today berating you for not publishing it.

I have made the municipal development of our western waterfront a close study and succeeded in interesting the War Department, after writing and receiving several hundred letters pertaining thereto from and to the federal and municipal authorities.

I have personally thanked and expressed my gratitude to the Secretary of War and the rivers and harbors committee in Congress for the interest shown by "Colonel Rees" magnificent harbor plans.

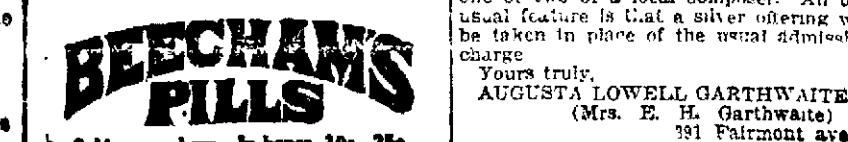

I have been bitterly opposed by our mayor and commercial organizations, and the letters they have written have been used as evidence against them, and has hastened the action of the War Department.

The motives that inspired my efforts are as clear and pure as daylight and I seek neither fame or notoriety, but desire to always do what I can to bring about conditions that are at once acceptable to all and beyond the range of modification or amendment.

For 25 years I have been wondering

To Boost Valley Board Is Active

M. G. CALLAGHAN.

LIVERMORE, Oct. 15.—The Livermore Chamber of Commerce has elected a new set of officers for the year of 1914-15 and proposes to bring to the front during the exposition year the splendid resources of the Livermore valley. The new president is M. G. Callaghan, one of the most active men in the Livermore valley, with large hay and grain and warehouse interests, and a member of the Alameda county exposition commission. D. J. Murphy, supervisor from that district, was chosen vice-president, C. H. Wentz treasurer and E. W. D'Onofrio secretary. These constitute the board of directors, with the addition of J. O. McKown, L. M. McDonald, Barney Haron and John J. Callaghan. President Callaghan has already mapped out a plan of campaign for advancing the interests of the entire Livermore valley and he announces that plan as follows.

"We must undertake a few things and do them well. The most important matter that demands our immediate attention is that of the formation of the public transportation district along the east bay shore. That vitally interests the Livermore valley, for it offers us the chance to get what we have long needed, direct and quick transportation to the bay district through the Hayward pass. If the parties are considering of doing the work, we must take part in this move and we must work with our board of trustees in the matter so that our acts will be official and legal."

"We must be ready to take advantage of the rush that will come to California following the opening of the Panama canal and the Livermore valley must get its share of the development that is coming at that time. Our exposition commission is already working to help our section in common with the rest of Alameda county."

"There are some local matters that require our attention that we will be able to work out to the satisfaction of all, but to do so we must make the Chamber of Commerce a thoroughly representative and active body."

HAYWARD RESIDENTS MAY DO OWN PAVING

HAYWARD, Oct. 15.—With a muddy prospect in store if the improvement work on Upper B street is not completed before the rains set in, residents in that quarter are considering of doing the work themselves. Gustave Volkers, who was assigned the McNearney public contract for laying Upper B street with asphalt has not yet put up his bond, and property owners are anxious that the work proceed at once, before the winter rains. There are several property owners on the street who are financially able to carry on the improvement work.

Over a mile of Upper B street remains torn up, and the new contractors are awaiting the putting up of bonds before commencing the relaying work.

TRIBUTE TO RICE.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: Will you kindly allow me to express through the columns of THE TRIBUNE my appreciation as a musician of the very interesting concert given by Mr. Leon Rice the Monday evening in the First Baptist Church, and thus perhaps reach many lovers and students of music in California.

There were no printed programs, as Mr. Rice's perfect enunciation makes them entirely unnecessary. He is an artist in every sense of the word, and seldom do we hear such voice and breath control, such wonderful pianissimo effects and pure legato, together with finished phrasing and intelligent reading. Add to these, the peculiar fascination of Mr. Rice's voice and his fine presence and the enthusiasm of tonight's audience is easily explained.

His wife, Jennie Caesar Rice, is a true accompanist, supporting her husband artistically, adding materially to the total ensemble.

Mr. and Mrs. Rice will give another concert this evening, the 14th, in the same church, the program being entirely of American compositions, including one or two of a local composer. An unusual feature is that a silver offering will be taken in place of the usual admission charge.

Yours truly,
AUGUSTA LOWELL GARTHWAITE,

FINE PROGRAM FOR FRUITVALE CHURCH

Entertainment Under Congregational Auspices Contains Many Pleasing Features.

FRUITVALE, Oct. 15.—Rehearsals are being held for the entertainment to be given under the auspices of the choir of the Fruitvale Congregational church, Thursday evening in the armory of the church, Fruitvale avenue. A feature of the program will be a number of selections by J. J. Schmitt, will give several songs. There will also be monologues and a sketch. The choir of the church, which is composed of twenty-seven members, will contribute classical contributions to the program. The choir will be led by D. E. Graves, while J. Schmitt is director of the Amphion quartet.

Among the artists who will take part in the program are: Mrs. Otilia Paul, violin soloist, accompanied by Miss Meyer; Herbert Fletcher, in impersonations, accompanied by J. J. Schmitt; and J. J. Schmitt, in impersonations, accompanied by J. J. Schmitt.

Let songs by Messrs. Leber, McNaughton, Schmitt and Schmitt; Mrs. H. P. D. and Miss O. Paul will give a dramatic portrayal entitled "The Vagabond." Miss June Hast will accompany on the piano.

PRESBYTERIANS OPEN THEIR BIG CONVENTION

SANTA ROSA, Oct. 15.—The Presbyteries of Benicia, comprising many counties of Northern California and of Nevada, and the Home Missionary committee held their conventions here last night preparatory to the meetings of the California synod of the Presbyterian church, which opens tonight.

Clerical and lay delegates, numbering 500 men and women, will attend. This afternoon the synodical Sunday school institute sessions were held.

The principal speakers were the Rev. William S. Noble, D. D., the Rev. W. P. Ostoby, D. D., the Rev. George C. Butterfield, D. D., and the Rev. Arthur Hicks and Henry M. Kerr.

DREDGES ISLAND FROM UNDER OPIUM SMOKERS

STOCKTON, Oct. 15.—J. M. Biggar, a wealthy delta planter, who owns much property and several small islands in the San Joaquin river west of Stockton, ordered a clique of Chinese to move their opium shack from one of the islands. The Celestials refused, and Biggar sent a dredge to the scene Sunday and obliterated the island by scattering the earth in various parts of the river. The Chinese moved across the stream, built another establishment, and shortly after were arrested, charged with opium selling.

TEACHER IS HOSTESS AT SCHOOL GIRL PARTY

SAN LEANDRO, Oct. 15.—Mrs. Mabel Calfee, teacher of music, was hostess of a number of school girls at a party at her home yesterday afternoon. Music and games were features of the affair.

Among those present were Miss Margaret Stokess, Miss Ruth Marshall, Miss T. Munn, Miss Evelyn King, Miss Cardoza, Arnold Cardoza and Miss Thelma Mackdown.

PARTY LEAVES TO VISIT LAND SHOW

Rheumatic Blood is Whole Story

Sciatica, Lumbago, and Drained Arterial Rheumatism Cured.

You Will Feel Like an Acrobat After Using S. S. S.

There is a host of pills, powders, tablets and what-not for rheumatism, but they all lack the first essential to being a natural medicine. To begin with, rheumatism is simply a name given to designate a variety of pains, and can only be reached by irrigating the entire blood supply with a naturally assimilative antidote. True, the pains may be eased with narcotics or the acids may be neutralized for the time being. But such methods merely temporize and do not even lead to a cure. There is but one standard rheumatism remedy, and is sold in all drug stores under the name of S. S. S. Attempts are often made to sell "dipped" food. To get full to get a bottle of S. S. S. to-day. You will be satisfied at once. If your rheumatism is of such a nature that you would like to consult a specialist, write to the medical department, The Swift Specific Co., 240 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

It contains only pure vegetable elements and is absolutely free of mercury, iodine, or other poisonous elements.

It is recommended in all cases of rheumatism by the use of S. S. S. is a fine tribute to the natural efficiency of this remarkable medicine, for it is assimilated just as naturally, just as specifically, and just as well ordered as the most acceptable, most palatable, and most readily absorbed food. To get full to get a bottle of S. S. S. to-day. You will be satisfied at once. QUADRUPLE TRUCK MAKES GOOD TEST

New Vehicles From the Jeffery Factory Climbs With All Wheels.

(By EDMUND CRINNION.)

One hundred mile test of the new Jeffery quadruple truck, built by the Thomas B. Jeffery company, Kenosha, Wisconsin, for the quartermaster corps, United States Army, has just been completed under the supervision of an official of that corps, and the test shows that the new design is now in service at Galveston, Texas, with the troops on the Mexican frontier.

The actual distance covered in the government test was 101.2 miles and the route was through a rolling country with several bad hills. The roads were of dirt, sand and black mud, made heavy and slippery by rain.

The differential works on the wheel that has traction. This makes it possible to get traction on any one of the four wheels if difficulty is encountered in any one of the other three. Each shaft at its end carries a spur pinion which engages with an internal gear within the body of the wheel, thus giving the power to the wheel near the outside of the rim thereby gaining the greatest leverage possible.

The Jeffery quadruple truck has been adopted in the military service with the expectation that it will be able to carry an equal load and travel anywhere that a horse-drawn wagon can go, but it can also do things that horses cannot accomplish.

The Jeffery truck drives, steers and brakes on all four wheels. It climbs over an obstacle instead of pushing the front wheels over. It will leave the road and travel over plowed fields and will pull up a 10 per cent grade.

PASSENGERS CAUGHT IN TRAP

Between 80 and 90 on Volturne Perished
Miserably

Survivors Tell of Horrors of Deaths on
Drowning Ship

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Between eighty and ninety passengers on the Volturne were trapped in compartment No. 1 by the first explosion on the vessel Thursday morning, and either perished at once or were burned alive. This news was brought to port today with the docking of the steamship Grosser Kurfurst, bearing the survivors of the disaster.

It came from the lips of Waldron Dieselman, third officer of the Volturne, one of the rescued.

The Grosser Kurfurst docked in Hoboken this afternoon and committees of the Red Cross and Jewish organizations and friends and relatives of the dead and living awaited her coming. Ten automobiles and an ambulance were on hand to bring the unfortunates to places of temporary refuge in Manhattan.

More instances of bravery shown by the crew of the Volturne during the mid-ocean battle with fire and storm are related in a wireless message from J. Haslop Adams of Baltimore, who is a passenger on the steamer which arrived here today. His message, dictated to the New York Times, was as follows:

RECORDS FOR BRAVERY.

"Second Officer Lloyd of the Volturne made a great record for bravery on the burning ship. He fell ten feet while repairing the wireless apparatus on Thursday morning. Then he fought the fire in the hospital, preventing an explosion and spread of fire to the whole ship. Later he made his way in a small boat to the Kurfurst and bravely got through, though the boat was smashed in launching and was full of water when caught by the Kurfurst's men.

"Third Engineer Pynch, after Thursday night's explosion, went to the engine room, took a bath, divided his money with a fellow engineer and then jumped overboard. He was picked up by the Kurfurst's boat.

"THROWS WIFE OVERBOARD.

John Burns, a fireman, jumped into the water from the Volturne, but could not get away from the ship's side. He caught a line and was pulled back to the deck by the chief engineer. He jumped again and reached the Kurfurst's boat. Burns saw a first cabin passenger, a big man, an American, name not known, throw his wife and sister overboard early Thursday morning and then jump himself. All were lost. This was the third shipwreck for Burns in three years.

"Officers Lieberman and Van Sonrenstede, of the Kurfurst, were out six hours on Thursday night in small boat, battling with the waves and were nearly run down by a liner. They were picked up finally through the aid of the Carman's searchlights. The crew was exhausted.

"FINDS CAUSE OF FIRE.

A broken English Disselma, a quiet mannered man of about 35 years, told of his experience during the eighteen hours he was aboard the fire-swept vessel. The cause of the fire he established as an explosion of a drum containing chemicals.

"I was just going to the bridge," he said, "when the first explosion occurred. The Volturne trembled as if she had been struck by a heavy shell. Almost immediately other drums began to explode. There was a rapid fire of explosions that sounded like cannonading.

"Captain Inch was on the bridge. I heard him shout out to man the lifeboats. The passengers came running in panic to the decks. The sailors sprang to the davits. A gale was blowing and the seas were sweeping in great rollers around us. The passengers crowded the rails so that the sailors had difficulty in lowering the boats. Meantime the small cases of chemicals were exploding by the dozen every minute. No one thought the ship would last five minutes.

"GALE FANS BLAZE.

Flames swept on from No. 1 compartment forward and leaped to the forecastle. Within a few minutes it was blazing. The gale fanned the blaze.

"A boat was lowered and made away. It seemed as if it would capsize every minute. We lost it time after time in the trough of the sea. Another was smashed against the davits before it could be lowered. The carpenter's boat, filled with men, women and children, split off. Each boat required a complement of sailors to man it and as each got away it left us with fewer men to lower the remaining boats.

"I helped lower the third officer's boat. When it struck the water a heavy sea hit it and swept several of the women overboard. Too, but he held on and climbed back. I saw him take out an oar to steer the boat away from the ship. It was in danger of breaking to pieces against the Volturne at any moment. The boat drifted away.

"The fourth officer's boat was lowered next. About twenty-five passengers were in it. We let it down clear of the ship and I saw it far away about ten minutes afterward. That was the last time that boat was ever seen, so far as I know.

"I ran to the starboard side and saw another boat full of people. We did not know that, however, as the captain said that the sea was too high and that a boat

POLICE BALL MOST SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

Widows' and Orphans' Benefit Draws
Brilliant Assemblage

Fellowship of men bound together by community of interests, ties of friendship and the mighty force of being enlisted in a good cause was symbolized last night at the gathering of the members of the Oakland police department and citizens of Oakland at the annual ball for the benefit of the Widows' and Orphans' Aid Association of the department. The ball was the fifth annual affair held by the Aid Association since its organization, and was the most successful and was largely attended.

The dance was held in the big pavilion of the Idora park skating rink, and during the early part of the evening the with dancers so close that it was difficult to go through the ordinary steps of the waltz and two-step. It is estimated that over 500 people attended the dance.

In conformity with a custom established at the opening affair five years ago, the ball was an all-night affair. Members of the police force on night duty doffed their blue uniforms and brass buttons at midnight and came to join their fellows in the annual celebration.

OBJECT OF ASSOCIATION.

The annual ball is held to obtain funds for the care of widows and orphans of members of the Oakland police force who have fallen while in the performance of their duty. Men who have been killed by criminals in protecting life and property, or who have become ill from long service and exposure to hardship.

In opening the ball, Chief of Police Walter J. Petersen, president of the Widows' and Orphans' Aid Association, spoke briefly of the aims and objects of the organization, and commented upon the splendid work done by his men and upon the generous support accorded the organization as indicated by the great gathering.

Chief Petersen and Mrs. Petersen led the grand march, with Commissioners F. C. Turner, William J. Baccus and Harry S. Anderson and their wives in the front ranks of the wide marching column. Commissioner John H. Keel, who was present, but Mayor Mott had not returned from Venice.

PROMINENT GUESTS PRESENT.

Following Chief Petersen in the grand march were Captain and Mrs. F. J. Lynch, Captain and Mrs. Thorwald Brown, Captain and Mrs. Charles Beck, Captain and Mrs. Lou F. Agnew, Lieutenant and Mrs. Fred Schroeder, Lieutenant and Mrs. William Woods, Lieutenant and Mrs. Bert Curtis, Inspector and Mrs. Dennis Holland, Inspector and Mrs. F. J. Flynn, Sergeant and Mrs. J. F. Walters, Sergeant and Mrs. Frank Fahy, Lieutenant and Mrs. Frank Agnew and a number of other officers in the department.

Among the well known men who were among those who headed the grand march were Congressman H. E. Knowland, Sheriff Frank Barnett, Deputy District Attorney Philip Carey, Judge Donahue, Supervisor Mullins, County Auditor E. M. Garrison, City Auditor George Gross, Judges Mortimer Smith and George Samuels, Prosecuting Attorneys Ezra Deotte and W. J. Hennessey, Chief of Police August Vollmer of Berkeley, Attorney James Kennedy, Attorney Abner Leach, William Blair of the street department, E. A. Young of the Merchants' Exchange, Louis Bernstein, Tim Dorgan, besides a number of representatives of the well known business houses, banks and corporations of Oakland.

BUSINESS HOUSES CONTRIBUTE.

Liberal contributions were presented by the many business houses in Oakland as a mark of appreciation of the work of the Oakland force, and a pledge of aid to their families who may at any time be could not live in it. I turned around and saw the carpenter's boat floating 100 yards or so away. It was bottom up.

"When I went to boat No. 5, as the captain told me, I found it was already in flames. I found that boat No. 5 had already been whipped by the gale against the davits and that its bow had been smashed. I don't know why, but I lowered the empty boat. It got away clear of the ship. It was a pity that it was broken.

"The captain then gave the order to fight the fire. I went on the bridge. He coupled the hose to the pumps and stretched two lines of it.

"We had been working the wireless for nearly an hour. Finally we got word that the Carman was coming full speed to help us. I ran to the passengers who were huddled aft. Some of them were praying, some laughing. I shouted to charge. The Carman was coming. Most of them fell on their knees. The panic among them ended.

"MAINMATE MADE FAST.

"I went back to the bridge. The captain told me that the mainmast was in danger of falling. I got a couple of tackles and made the mainmast firm so that the aerials could not go down and destroy our wireless.

"Then the steering gear on the bridge blew up with a loud explosion. We began to drift. The carpenters fixed up a hand steering gear. We did not want to drift for fear the Carman could not find us. I told the passengers that the Carman would reach us in an hour and that quitted them.

"The Carman sent us a message to steer southwest by west to meet her, but we had to steer before the wind to keep the flames forward. The captain fought the flames hard and within an hour or two he thought he had them under control. I went up to take an observation and fix our position. As I came down the wireless operator shouted that the Carman had been sighted.

"CAPTAIN'S EYES BURNED.

"The flames beneath the deck seemed to be under control, but the fire in the forecabin was burning fast. The second officer and several sailors went forward to fight it there. I met the captain in the smoke. His eyes had been badly burned and he was half blinded.

"I ordered the stewards to bring food bereaved by the death of a member of the force.

The ball was a brilliant affair. The big pavilion was decorated with brightly colored lights, flowers, palms and greens. From the end of the hall the canopy of lights, shaded with vari-colored streamers and half hidden in flowers and greens, gave a marvellous appearance to the scene.

Beneath, in dress ranging from full evening attire and the full-dressed of uniform rank among some members of the committee, to the more informal business suit of other guests danced a huge crowd.

The police ball is known for its demonstration by people high in society, by leaders in the business and political world, but side by side with those prominent in the affairs of civic life should the citizenry of Oakland, rubbing shoulders on terms of social equality with those from more exclusive circles.

STAND IN SPOTLIGHT.

A pretty feature at the ball was the use of a big spotlight, which was erected on one side of the pavilion. With the lights turned down, the hall into a half twilight, the spotlight would be turned on that or that well known couple, following Chief and Mrs. Petersen, or Congressman Knowland, Chairman Captain Thorsen, Brown or Floor Manager B. A. Wallman around the hall.

The dance was splendidly managed. The strictest order was maintained throughout the night, several couples being ordered from the floor when they attempted to enjoy the festive rag.

The floor committee was as follows: Captain T. Brown, chairman; Inspector B. A. Wallman, floor manager; Captain Lew Agnew, Lieutenant F. Schroeder, Inspector T. J. Flynn, Inspector W. J. Enigh, Inspector H. H. Caldwell, Sergeant W. M. H. Cloud, Sergeant James Walters, Corporal J. P. Conroy, Harry Gilbert, Corporal E. J. Conway, Corporal John Fahy, Patrolman W. R. Keel, Patrolman George Hall, Patrolman E. F. Hughes, Patrolman W. E. Robinson.

OTHER COMMITTEE WORKERS.

The reception committee was divided into a committee headed by Chief Petersen and a second uniformed committee headed by Lieutenant Bert L. Curtis. The first committee members: Hon. F. C. Turner, Hon. W. J. Baccus, Hon. H. S. Anderson, Hon. John Forrest, Captain Lew F. Agnew, Captain F. E. Lynch, Captain Charles Beck, Lieutenant W. F. Woods.

Lieutenant Curtis' committee members: Patrolman A. Dieke, Patrolman Con Keefe, Patrolman T. Duane, Patrolman W. E. Jordan, Patrolman Harry Orrell, Patrolman J. R. Leonard, Patrolman H. M. Pratt, Patrolman Thomas Pardee, Patrolman E. C. Summers.

The committee on arrangements was composed of the following officers: Inspector Dennis Holland, Inspector S. E. McGoldrick, Inspector R. V. McSorley, Inspector J. D. Decker, Inspector W. D. Dingley, Inspector T. F. Gallagher, Sergeant Forgie, Corporal John Murray, Corporal James Flynn, Corporal A. E. Smith, Corporal J. H. Nedderman, Sergeant Frank Abner, Patrolman F. Anderson, Patrolman F. R. Rosenthal, Patrolman R. H. Lohsen, Patrolman C. B. O'Brien, Patrolman J. A. Gunter, Patrolman F. M. Cronan, Patrolman George Underwood, Patrolman John Gannaw, Patrolman William Turber, Patrolman Charles Jorgensen, Patrolman C. A. Scottie, Patrolman J. E. Murphy, Patrolman W. J. Davis, Patrolman R. C. Feeley, Patrolman E. Frohn, Patrolman E. J. O'Donnell.

Man and Wife on Same Jury? Lawyer Files Objections

SPOKANE, Oct. 10.—On the grounds that a man and his wife are not in law separate individuals and cannot act and think entirely independent of each other, the right of W. E. Pengelly and his wife to sit as jurors in a criminal trial was challenged here.

"Mrs. Pengelly has promised to love, honor and obey Mr. Pengelly," said the attorney who objected to the same jury. "I submit that she cannot act independently and free from the influence of her husband as a juror."

Superior Judge W. A. Huenke refused to sustain the challenge for cause against Mrs. Pengelly.

to the passengers and it was done. Then the Grosser Kurfurst, by wireless, asked if we needed her help, and Captain Inch thinking he had the flames beaten, answered that he did not need any more help.

The Carman was near by. Her captain asked what he could do and Captain Inch requested him to scout around for the boats that had been put off. She circled about 10 miles east and returned without finding them.

"None of us had thought about the 80 or 90 stowaway passengers in No. 1 compartment. We had not had time to do so, we were so busy fighting the flames. I don't know how many of them were in their places when the first explosion occurred, but I fear that most of them were there. They were cut off by the flames. We can only imagine what happened to them, as none of us was able to get into that compartment again.

"When it seemed that the flames had died down somewhat the captain tried to get the sailors' forecabin. He found the bodies of four sailors burned to death in the hallway. They had been trapped by the fire."

NURSES FIGHT EIGHT HOUR LAW

Petition Filed Asking Citation
Restraining Enforcement.

Miss Ethel Nelson of Merritt
Hospital to Have Hearing.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—The fight

the eight-hour law was started yesterday when, in the United States District court, Miss Ethel Nelson, storekeeper and pharmacist at the Merritt Hospital, filed a petition asking that those in charge of the execution of the law, the State Labor Commission, and District Attorney W. H. L. Hynes, be cited to show cause why they should not be restrained from its enforcement. Charles E. Wheeler and J. D. Decker represented the nurse and the hospital trustees, who are backing the suit. The petitioners are William Bosley, P. L. Wheeler and S. H. Buteau, as trustees of the hospital, and the suit is directed against Labor Commissioner John P. McLaughlin and Deputy Labor Commissioners John Kean and John J. Tobin, who compose the Bureau of Labor Statistics of California, and against W. H. L. Hynes, district attorney of Alameda.

The petitioners declare that through the nature of the woman pharmacist's work she is compelled to ignore the eight-hour law, being subject to emergency calls at any time. She is paid $15 per month and her maintenance.

The petition alleges that the profits of the hospital support forty free beds, and that the hardship worked by operation of the law would reduce the number of such beds. The hospital expense, it is declared, would be increased $3900 monthly by the law's enforcement.

HEARING OCTOBER 31.

The motion of the plaintiffs' attorneys yesterday was granted and a hearing being set for October 31.

The action in the court comes as a culmination of the fight waged by the hospitals to have trained and student nurses exempted from the eight-hour law. The nurses themselves, it is declared, are against the law. It was first intended to bring up a test case by having one nurse openly violate the law and cause arrest. The law, it is claimed, will work havoc among charitable institutions.

John F. Bowle, when seen yesterday, made the statement that the Merritt hospital had been selected as the one to bring the action, because it, of all the hospitals in the bay counties, was most peculiarly affected by the enforcement of the law.

"The Merritt Hospital," said Bowle, "because of the provisions of its endowment and articles of incorporation can be operated only as a charitable organization, and therefore can never be a number of my patients in the hospital to receive the charitable cases. This institution is typical of the many which are unjustly discriminated against by the enforcement of the law, and for this reason was chosen to represent the other hospitals in the fight against its enforcement."

CLAIM UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

"Our claim, which we intend to substantiate, is that this legislation is unconstitutional, being in defiance of the Fourteenth Amendment of the Constitution of the United States, which provides equal protection under the laws for all. It has been customary in labor laws to specify hours for labor in certain places and cases where the health of the employee would be affected. In this law places are specified which do not bear any real relation to the health of individuals and discriminates against certain individuals. Under its provisions a graduate nurse may work any number of hours in a hospital where a student nurse is restricted from working more than eight hours, but should she be called upon to attend a patient in a private home or in a hotel, she would be prohibited from working more than the prescribed eight hours.

Dr. Rosenthal, president of the Association of Hospital Workers, made the following statement yesterday:

INTERESTS OF AFFLICTED.

"In the matter of the activity of the Association of Hospital Workers, I believe it is proper that the general public be informed of the aims and purposes of an organization vitally concerned in conserving the interests of the afflicted, and the improvement by co-operation, the conditions surrounding them.

"With this object in view many of the hospitals in this state have banded together to test in all amity the valid-

SALOON LICENSE ORDERED REVOKED

Permit Held by L. Regas Canceled for Permitting Gambling.

Revocation of the saloon license permit held by L. Regas, 1751 Seventh street, was authorized by the city council this morning on the recommendation of Chief of Police Petersen. This action was taken on the ground that Regas knowingly permitted a Chinese gambling place to be conducted at the rear of his place and that he gave trouble to the authorities.

This reduces the number of liquor licenses to 22. The resolution taking away the license follows:

"Whereas, the saloon now conducted by L. Regas, 1751 Seventh street, has been a source of considerable annoyance to the authorities of this city owing to the way in which the proprietor of same has conducted it, and

"Whereas, it has been learned by information received by the city council that Regas has knowingly permitted persons to engage in gambling in the rear of said premises; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the commission which was obtained by said L. Regas to conduct a saloon at 1751 Seventh street, be and it is hereby revoked and his license canceled."

KNOWLAND TO PROTEST OFFICIAL SEGREGATION

Congressman Knowland has replied to the protests against the segregation of colored employees at Washington made to him as to the other congressmen and senators from California, by the Northern California branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, by saying that he has "noted with regret the tendency on the part of the present administration to discriminate against the members of the negro race, both in regard to appointments and in the matter of segregation in the public buildings. Of course," he adds, "I am a Republican, and have little influence with the administration in matters of this character, but can assure you that my protest will be voiced."

Replies have been received by the association from almost all the California representatives in Washington. The local organization is composed of people of both races who urge the full recognition of the constitutional rights of the negro, and demand, not social recognition, but absolute equality of opportunity for the negro with other Americans.

Perhaps joy cometh in the morning, but not to the chap who has made a night of it.

ity of an act which they conceive to be their very interests.

"The operation of the law, as extended in its effects to all females employed in hospitals, with the exception of graduate trained nurses, already made it impossible to maintain certain charitable institution and shaw worked acute hardship on many others.

"Let us not be misunderstood; we are not concerned with the eight-hour law for women, but solely with an act limiting the hours of work of those attendant upon the sick to eight hours; an act which tends to regulate the care of the sick and which must needs interfere in its operation with the charitable care now accorded to the needy.

"We are dealing with a condition which makes for inefficiency of those student nurses who some day must assume the responsibility of caring for the sick and injured. The student nurse is dependent upon the opportunity which makes for the acquirement of necessary knowledge."

The Calling Question

By DORIS BLAKE.

THE problem as to whether a girl should invite a man to a party or whether he should request permission to do so seems to be a vexing one. In some places the custom of the man requesting permission prevails. But as a general thing, it seems to be accepted that it is the girl's privilege to ask the man to come to a party. The invitation should never be extended by the girl at a first meeting unless in exceptional circumstances, as when both man and girl have heard much of each other, so that they do not meet as complete strangers.

Then there is the question of hours for the call. The hours for calling vary in different communities and in different countries. free to receive visitors in the evening than in daytime. And, of course, the majority of men in town or city who work up to 5 or 6 o'clock. So, if men are to make calls upon women they must do so in the evening. As a general rule, from 8:30 to 10 or half past 10 are the correct calling hours. Later hours than these are decidedly bad form either for arrival or departure except when a good deal of intimacy exists.

For a first call a man should not remain more than an hour or so and the girl should not encourage him to do so. The girl should not expect a first call should receive a young man alone arises in connection with calling. In some of the more sophisticated localities it is customary for an older person to be in the room when a young man receives a visitor. This is the rare exception, though.

The first time a man calls at her home the girl should plan to have him meet her father and mother. It is extremely bad form to keep the parents entirely out of sight when strangers come to the house. The parents should come, but the father while the young man caller is there to extend a word of greeting and, incidentally, discern if the caller is a desirable friend.

But parents should not deem it essential to remain during the entire visit. HASN'T HEART TO TELL HER. "Dear Miss Blake: I am a young man of 21 and considered handsome. For the last eight months I have been keeping company with a young woman one year my junior. She is a nice girl, but I have grown tired of her company and have tried to break off several times and so far have been unsuccessful. She calls me on the telephone, writes letters, and goes to the office with me. I am not employed. This of course, is embarrassing to me, but I have not the heart to tell her that I don't care for her any more. What shall I do?"

It does seem to me that if a man makes up his mind to discontinue the attentions of a girl he could do so without an unusual effort. When the girl calls you on the telephone, simply do not answer. Leave instructions with the telephone operator not to call you. Ignore her letters entirely, and when she comes down to the office send word out to her that you are too busy to talk to her.

STARTING TO COLLEGE. "Dear Miss Blake: I am a girl of 19 and am just starting to college at this place. I wish that you would please give me some help on a serious question that has been troubling me for a long time. I am deeply in love with a fine young man from my home town and I think that he loves me. But he has forbidden me to join any society. I have had a bid to join what is said to be the best society at this place. Shall I join and not let him know, or what shall I do?"

SOME people have very definite opinions on the matter of sororities. If your friend is a member of one, and you are one, you will simply have to make a choice between him or the sorority. If you prefer his love and friendship to that of the sorority girls, then the thing for you to do is to abandon the idea of joining the sorority.

ASKED HER SUITOR. "Dear Miss Blake: I am deeply in love with a young man who has asked me to marry him. He really has no right to dictate to you at all. However, if you are in love with him, and you think the girl should wear her hair in a bun, feel bad, perhaps you had better forego the pleasure of the dance.

IN HIS SHIRT SLEEVES. "Dear Miss Blake: Will you give me a little advice? Is it all right for a girl to accept a boy's company when he is in his shirt sleeves? Is it all right for a girl of 14 to go with her girl friend and her fellow? How should a girl of 14 fix her hair?"

A self-respecting young man would not offer his company unless he were dressed in a more suitable garb than that which you describe. A girl of 14 has no right whatever to be going about with boys, and it is a careless parent indeed who will allow any such thing. A young girl should wear her hair in a simple way as possible. Caught with a ribbon or barrette at the back of the neck and having in a curl or braid is a most pleasing hairdressing for a young girl.

LIVES WITH HIS PARENTS. "Dear Miss Blake: I am a girl of 20, and have been married nine months this month. We live with his parents, a thing I didn't object to at first, but do now. I have told my husband about it, and he always says that we will have to live in our own home. It is because he has not got the money, for he has just purchased an automobile, a thing I did not want him to do, but take his money and buy a home. You will want to know what I want to move to ourselves. I will tell you. All last winter I had all the work to do. That means, washing, ironing, cooking, and all other things. I knew before I came here that I would have to help with the work, but I did not know that I would have to do it. My husband knows all of these things, but he does not say anything about them. He says that he will still love me. He has never given me any money, except about $3, since we have been married, and I have only had three new cheap

THE ROUND-SHOULDERED WOMAN
By LILLIAN RUSSELL
(Copyright, 1913, By Lillian Russell.)

IHAVE received several letters asking for suggestions for the prevention and cure of round shoulders. It is a sad sight to see young girls victims to too good natured or careless parents, for in the bringing up is the fault of round shoulders. The father, mother, or brother, who will let little girls sit round shouldered over a book and not correct them is absolutely at fault. Teachers in schools should watch the pupils to see that they sit correctly.

The insure a straight back and a beautiful figure the foundation must be begun in childhood, when the bones are soft and pliable. Just a little attention to how the little ones walk and sit will do the greatest good. Proper exercise will do the finishing.

A round shouldered girl can never look smart, for smart women are particularly straight and stand in figure. Clothes hang properly on badly shaped shoulders, so look to the children when they are young. When a girl begins to stoop start treatment right away. Curtail the sitting hours, make the girl go in for games and musical drill and physical exercise under a good teacher. Teach her breathing exercises. Make her take long, deep breaths with the mouth shut, the shoulders braced and the arms hanging for five minutes two or three times a day. Teach her to hold herself properly, to walk erect, and see that her clothing is always loose and well fitting.

A great cause of ill health in school girls may be counteracted by ordinary common sense measures rather than by medical knowledge. When children are growing too fast and begin to lean forward put a brace on their backs to hold the shoulders back, give them salt baths and rub their little backs strongly, and compel them to eat plenty of baked potatoes and oatmeal, for these both have the quality for strengthening the bones.

CAROLINE—Besides having a graceful motion of the body, one needs a wide-awake, energetic bearing. This does not mean the rigid or nervous activity, but the quick movements that signify splendid vitality and an interest in life.

READER—Each night scrub the hands with a hard brush, with warm water and good soap. Dry the hands thoroughly and then use good skin food or sweet almond oil into them. Apply a good portion of the cream or oil, then put on an old pair of loose fitting old cloth gloves. These will protect the bed linen and when doing any kind of work where the hands get in contact with water or dirt one should always wear gloves. When the hands are in water rubber gloves should be worn, and when dusting or sweeping cloth or kid gloves should be worn.

AN OLD SUBSCRIBER—Address your inquiries to me in care of THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE. I shall be glad to answer any question in regard to the care of the nails that you wish. I shall send you a complete instructions on manicuring upon receipt of a stamped addressed envelope from you.

E. H. H.—I would not advise you to use cocoa butter in connection with facial massage. It is too heavy to use on the face and is liable to clog a growth of hair. However, it is excellent for developing the bust, and I shall send you instructions for bust development if you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope.

Use boric acid to the strength of ten grains to six ounces distilled water, heat and strain and when cold use in eye cup. If you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope I shall send you a set of splendid exercises for strengthening the eyes; also formula for hair tonic for dandruff.

GERALDINE FARRAR, WHO SAYS SHE WILL NEVER MARRY MAN WITH SALARY LESS THAN HER'S.

dresses since I have been married. My parents did everything they could for me, and I always had nice things. Of course a wife ought not to spend her husband's money for anything foolish and ought to try and help him save his money, which I am willing to do, but I cannot stay here and do without things that I need to have because his mother and he do not believe I need them. My parents wish me to come home to look after the house, but I cannot do that and still have a place to work in some town. I have stayed away for a few months, and he misses me and wants me to return.

You are perfectly right in wanting to have a home of your own, if your husband is in a financial position to make this possible. Simply insist on living away from his parents, anyway. There is no house in the world, it would seem, large enough for mother-in-law and daughter-in-law to live happily together in. Do not make him realize the unfairness of your position without carrying out your threat to leave him. It would be most unfortunate for you to leave your husband, but if you cannot possibly stay, do it. If you would take a firm stand and simply insist on a home of your own and an allowance large enough to support you and your children, he would be forced to do so. There is no reason in the world why a wife should stand and tell, and in return get not even so much as a servant, would he pay, who would not begin to do the same amount of work as you are doing.

HAS GOOD REPUTATION. "Dear Miss Blake: I am a girl of about 21, fairly good looking, and have a good reputation in the community. I have a friend who is a very nice boy, but he is a servant, and I am not proper for a girl to go to see a boy friend who is a servant. He seems to be a gentleman in every respect, and I like him just for a friend. In another instance there is another gentleman of about 27 who comes here with my brother now and then. He is like myself—bachelor, but when he comes he acts like a man who means to be a good friend. He is not a bit of a flirt, and he is very kind and what he means by that way of doing. Do you think he would really like to come and see me? I don't go with the boys very much, but would like to see your advice."

If the young man is able to receive from his friends a letter or two for you to call on him, his mother or some woman relative no doubt would act as chaperon during your visit. In all probability the man is quite interested in you and if you care for him you might try to relieve his bashfulness by introducing some general topics of conversation to wake his visits pleasant ones and invite him to call and see you again when he is leaving.

WANTS WORDS FOR CALIFORNIA SONG
Miss Mabel Ringelman, prima donna of the Chicago grand opera company, wants a California song, the words and music to be the composition of a California composer. She wants it at once. Miss Ringelman, who is a product of this state, wants a song of this sort to sing at the Portola festival in San Francisco on October 25, according to M. L. Samuels, husband of the popular singer.

"HANDSOME ED" DEAD.
ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 13.—Ed Crow, widely known to racing men throughout the country as "Handsome Ed," was found dead in a rooming house here. He had fallen into poverty and had managed to live for the last year by peddling carpet sweepers. He was 60 years old.

Newest Trot Is Applied to Freshman Class

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 15.—The tanglefoot tango is the newest dance. It was originated by the Goucher College sophomores and was first danced in the college dormitory by two "freshies." The two girls had a reputation as dancers and this suggested the unique them dance with their bare feet tangled in the lengths of fly paper which had been laid for their dancing floor. When the sophomores were satisfied with the antics of their freshmen victims, they quietly spent a half hour getting untangled from the paper.

NEW YORK BANKER SEPARATED FROM WIFE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Jefferson Seligman, head of the banking house of J. & W. Seligman, and his wife, the only daughter of the late Isador Wormser, have parted. Mr. and Mrs. Seligman have not met since early in the year, when Seligman left for Europe. Serious differences of opinion had arisen prior to that time, and when he returned the town house was in charge of caretakers and Mrs. Seligman and her mother were at Deal Beach. Mrs. Seligman said it was true that she and her husband had separated. She said: "No divorce proceedings have been started yet. Whether there will be a suit I cannot now say. I know of no other woman in the case. It is just a mere matter of incompatibility of temperament between my husband and myself. That is the best way to describe it."

MRS. KUHN DENIES SHE CONTEMPLATES DIVORCE.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 15.—Mrs. Harrison Kuhn, mother of Mrs. Robert Goetz, today denied that there was any truth in the report that Mrs. Goetz is considering instituting divorce proceedings against her husband or that Mr. Goetz is contemplating a similar step. "The rumors are too silly to discuss," said Mrs. Kuhn, who before her second marriage was Mrs. William S. Whelan. When an attempt was made to verify the report that Mr. and Mrs. Goetz are separated, Mrs. Kuhn refused to discuss it.

GERALDINE FARRAR ON MARRYING.

DENVER, Oct. 15.—Geraldine Farrar, Metropolitan opera star, said yesterday she could never marry a man who could earn as high a salary as she can command. "No man ever," she said, "has been persuasive enough to make her see where he could mean to her what her art does. It is marriage or art."

MISS WILSON OFFERS SERVICES TO POOR.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.—The aid of Miss Margaret Woodrow Wilson, daughter of the President, has been obtained by the Northern Liberties Aid Society in its endeavor to raise funds for poor working girls. Miss Wilson will be the principal soloist at the concert dance November 4. The money realized will be used to erect a lodging house for working girls near the Northern Liberties church here.

AGED FRESNO WOMAN KILLED BY TRAIN.

FRESNO, Oct. 15.—Mrs. Elizabeth A. Thomas, aged 75, was killed north of Fresno late yesterday afternoon when her buggy was struck by a southbound Santa Fe train. A packing house partially obstructed the view of the track and, being deaf, she did not hear the approach of the train. An inquest will be held today. Mrs. Thomas was the wife of J. P. Thomas, a pioneer dairyman of Fresno county.

STEPMOTHER KILLS FOUR CHILDREN.

WACO, Tex., Oct. 15.—Arrested on the charge of poisoning two of her stepchildren, Mrs. Ellen W. West Etheridge, the police say, confessed yesterday that she killed four of her husband's eight children by a former marriage and that she had intended killing the remaining four. The only reason Mrs. Etheridge would give for the crimes was that Etheridge lavished his attention on the children and neglected her.

MISS CLAIRE UNGER, ONE OF THE YOUNGER GIRLS WHO AIDED IN THE RECENT CHARITY BENEFITS.—Fraser Photo.

FIVE HUNDRED guests have been bidden to witness the marriage of Miss Hazel Lawton and Roy Shurtlett this evening in the Unitarian church at Berkeley, at which the Rev. M. Smith will officiate. The wedding will be one of the prettiest church ceremonies that has taken place in Berkeley, the edifice being handsomely banked with ferns and blooms. Attendant on the bride will be Miss Winifred Lawton, Miss Alice Hiestand and Miss Helen Lawton. Harry Lawton will act as groomsmen, while the ushers will be George Harlowe, Murray Hunt and James Arnold. The bride will wear a beautiful gown of heavy white satin garnished with rare old lace. The dress veil of tulle will be gracefully draped over the long court train and held in place with sprays of orange blossoms. A wreath of the same delicate flowers will encircle the ciffure and the arrangement of the veil on the hair. Mrs. Leslie Henry will wear her beautiful wedding gown of white satin and will carry a shower of white and blue. The bridesmaids will be gowned in rainbow effect. Miss Helstand wearing a delicate shower bouquet to match. Miss Helen Lawton will wear shaded crepe de chine, her shower being of delicate blooms in shades of pink. Miss Shurtlett will be gowned in pale blue crepe de chine with shower in harmony with the costume. Following the ceremony, a reception and wedding supper will follow at the home of the bride's parents. Shurtlett and his bride will leave for an extended honeymoon, the destination of which will be kept secret. On their return they will reside at the Edlington Apartments in Berkeley.

RUTHERFORD-DODGE NUPTIALS.
The marriage of Miss Grace Rutherford and Melville John Dodge will take place this evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Rutherford, at Harrison boulevard. Mrs. Charles Stafford of San Diego, a girl friend of Miss Rutherford, has many friends here, having lived here from her childhood, but has traveled extensively abroad and is an accomplished linguist.

MAY BE CLUE TO P. O. BANDITS

LIVES WRECKED ON "COAST"

AGED PRINTER SUSPECTED

ROBBERY

Conversed With Flagman Before Train Pulled Into Station.

Description Tallies With That Furnished by Clerk.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—A man who claimed to be a tramp printer and of whom a careful description has been obtained is believed to be the bandit who held up the San Luis Obispo local as a result of information which reached Post Office Inspector James O'Connell at noon today. A short time before the train pulled into the Burlingame station, James Dobbie, a flat man at the crossing near the depot, had a ten minutes talk with an individual whose description tallies with that of the clerk held up. The man told Dobbie he was a tramp printer and when referred to the Burlingame Advance as a place where he might obtain employment, said he was not looking for work and started down the track towards some freight cars. He is described as 50 years old, 5 feet 7, smooth shaven, gray eyes, shaggy eyebrows, gray hair, high cheek bones, wearing a wooden shirt, faded trousers and with one shoe broken so as to show his toes protruding.

Word has also been received of the finding of the San Jose and Palo Alto registered package in a sack opened at the Oakland postoffice. They had evidently been thrown there by the high-woman after he had scanned their contents.

Advices received by the inspector at noon also raised the amount of money taken to more than $500. It having been learned that remittances from the post-offices at San Pablo, Fozz and Park Field, were on the train.

But little more than $100 in valuables and coin are believed to have been obtained by the bandit.

KNOWLAND WILL SPEAK AT FAIR

Congressman to Address the Attendance at St. Andrew's Bazaar Friday Night.

Congressman Jos R. Knowland will be the principal speaker Friday night at the annual fair and bazaar of the parishioners of St. Andrew's church, now in progress at Holland hall, Twenty-sixth street and San Pablo avenue. A number of other special events have been arranged for that evening, vocal and instrumental numbers by students of St. Mary's college being among the events listed on the program. Success has attended the affair since its opening last Monday night, but from a financial standpoint all previous similar affairs have already been eclipsed.

Father Quinn, pastor of the church, is assisting his parishioners in arranging for Congressman Knowland's reception and a record attendance is anticipated.

A number of other civic officials have agreed to make addresses during the week. These include County Assessor Horner, Commissioner John Forest, J. W. Stetson, Senator Breed, W. D. Dickie, superintendent of playgrounds of Oakland, County Surgeon Hayland, County Auditor Garrison and others.

Fight to Get Bonds Lost by Litigants

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—Superior Judge Seawell, in a lengthy decision rendered orally from the bench this morning, dashed cold water on the hopes of certain stockholders of the Ocean Shore railway who had expected to be given bonds of the new corporation organized two years ago. The action was brought by John Ginty and others, who following the starting of the new Ocean Shore Company, accepted stock and who later protested that bonds should be given them. The court holds that as they had an agreement to take the stock they must be satisfied with it. Those concerned are bondholders of the old road who collectively turned in their bonds and received in lieu thereof stock in the new corporation. The court pointed out that the bonds could not expect to receive the bonds as they are far more valuable than the bonds of the old corporation.

Have Flowers Both Soul and Immortality?

Authority Sees Individuality in Them

Miss Marie Kelton, who agrees with Miss Kate Cole that flowers may have souls.

WILD FLOWER SHOW STIRS POETIC IDEA

Beauty of Flora Now on Exhibition Is An Inspiration

The soul of the wild flower may not be so much of a dream as people thought when Miss Kate Cole, the artist and famed authority on the flora of California, first made the statement that flowers have souls and individuality. Miss Marie Kelton, another California wild flower lover, also agrees, at least, that they have individuality. The soul is a debatable point, but, she declares, the flowers seem to possess a spark of immortality.

Miss Cole declared that the flowers which strike the deepest chords on the heartstrings of the true artist were possessed of souls of their own, and after a quarter of a century of study clings to the idea.

The flower exhibit now being held at the Oakland free public museum is one of the greatest ever seen in the bay region. Flowers of every variety, all picked in Oakland's environs, are being shown at the affair, which is under the auspices of the California Botanical Society. It was at this show that Miss Kelton declared that Miss Cole's theory was probably based on a firm foundation.

The exhibition will continue until Saturday evening. California varieties of almost every type of wild flower are on display, as well as paintings by Miss Cole, and specimens of herbs and shrubs.

Dr. Jepson of the University of California and C. P. Wilcomb, curator of the museum, assisted in mounting the specimens on display.

Wisconsin Governor Will Select Site

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—Governor Francis E. McGovern of Wisconsin and four commissioners arrived here today to select and dedicate a site for the Wisconsin pavilion to be erected at the Panama Pacific International exposition. The site was tentatively chosen today, but little is expected to be taken until next Friday. During their stay the governor and his commissioners will be guests of the exposition directors and of the Wisconsin Society of California.

Pursuit of Wealth and Materialism Deplored by Bryan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Pursuit of wealth was deplored by Secretary of State Bryan in an address here last night at the fall conference of the Presbyterians of Washington district. The secretary advocated religious teaching in the home, schools and colleges to combat the materialistic ideas engendered in the minds of youth by the discussions of money matters in the family circles.

"What can you expect from the boys and girls," he demanded, "when they see this worship of wealth? They will go out to reach after wealth regardless of the means by which they obtain it."

AUTHOR FINISHES TERM IN PRISON

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 15.—After more than six months' imprisonment in the federal penitentiary here for violating the postal laws, Julian Hawthorne and Dr. W. J. Morton of Boston today are free. They planned to leave for New York.

Hawthorne and Morton were sentenced March 21 last to terms of one year and one day, but it was ordered that their sentences date from the time of their arrest, four months previous. "Good heavens," brought out a further shortening of their sentence.

Since he entered the doors of the Atlanta prison Hawthorne's record, according to officials, has been such as to prove particularly helpful to his fellow prisoners. He has made noteworthy contributions to the prison paper, it was said, and was considered a valuable counselor by his fellow prisoners.

FOOTBALL INJURIES SHOW BIG INCREASE

Record of Casualties in Game Appalling by Comparison

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—The weekly list of football injuries is appalling, as compared to records of "casualties" in combats of ten years ago, according to an authority on the gridiron game, writing today in the Chicago Daily News. Despite the new rules, many of which were designed to eliminate roughness and lessen chance of injury, the "new" game makes the "old" look like a "parlor pastime," he says. The critic does not blame the modern code or method of play for all the injuries, but says that the changes have, in part, defeated their very purpose because they are responsible for losing of the skill with which old-time players avoided injury. He cites the instance of one University of Chicago player, weighing only 142 pounds, who went through four seasons under the old rules, carrying the ball more than any other player on his team, and yet asked for "time out" only once. Several years later, a successor to this player, weighing more himself but opposing men of less weight than the "old timers," was taken out in his first college game, suffering more bruises than the first named got in his whole career, according to the critic.

PLANNING NEW CITY GREAT

NOTED EXPERT TO AID IN TRAFFIC QUESTION OF CITY OF OAKLAND.

Report of Hegemann to Take Up Big Projects Ahead.

(By CHARLES HENRY CHENEY.)

If the people of Oakland had the power to rebuild their city, taking counsel of the past to make their future plans perfect, what would they want to rearrange their streets? Would they erect the philanthropists and draughtsmen who had done the rigid checkerboards of San Francisco, Sacramento, Chicago and Philadelphia, or would they turn for advice to the farmers, sea captains and sailors who fashioned the most picturesque street system of the districts about Boston? In other words, would they seek the advice of men lacking in topographical sense, but industrious in making and surveying, or would they confer with men active in perception of gradient and setting, but lacking the most rudimentary knowledge of mapping and composition?

OF NATIONAL IMPORTANCE.

The answer, if Oakland is to be a city of national importance, is found only in the science of city planning. City planning would not tear down all the present buildings nor would it change all the streets, but it would solve the general problem of city planning, the first problem to be studied will be the amount of traffic both of street cars and vehicles, which each street in the city has to carry.

Big problems will immediately arise. How shall the congested areas of Center and Broadway? How much money is the city wasting in the paving of roadbeds to carry very little traffic but are made as wide as the business downtown "highways"? One Eastern city, in such an investigation, found that in one way alone it could save several millions dollars in new pavements by narrowing the roadbeds, but, of course, keeping the streets the same width, the extra space saved from the roadbed being parked along the sidewalks.

Such treatment, has the great advantage of adding quiet and safety to the children in the adjacent quarters by diverting automobiles and other fast traffic to the through traffic streets kept wide for that purpose.

OAKLAND'S TRAFFIC PROBLEMS.

The studying of traffic conditions in Oakland is a most interesting problem. Oakland already is fortunate in having long radial arteries, such as Broadway, Telegraph avenue, San Pablo avenue and East Fourteenth street, but these same radial arteries are acute lacking in the southwestern portion of the city. The traffic center at Fourteenth street is crowded and the streets are narrow. If any re-routing of the street car system should be made to take existing lines away from this center the value of the surrounding property would be likely to depreciate in proportion to such an extent as to make the business interests in the city feel that the re-routing is a growing business district to the west of the new city hall demands such a re-routing.

IDEAL TRAFFIC ARRANGEMENT.

The ideal city would have its traffic arteries arranged somewhat like the spokes of a wheel, radiating out in all directions from a hub, all traffic centers, which because of the number of people here brought together, immediately become the business center. As this core generally is a part of great congestion, some way has to be found to open it up into a big plaza, or to route traffic around it in a circle of two or three blocks.

The cross streets in the same way would, in the ideal city, be larger and larger concentric circles moving away from the center, with wide circular boulevards about every half mile out to help traffic skirt the business district. Generally speaking, the best of the great cities of the world have either grown up with radial arteries only, as London, or with circular arteries only, as Paris. The latter is the worst off and the most congested. These cities are therefore now making extensive city planning studies to relieve the congested conditions by the cutting of the hand of streets by the back.

In view of the fact of the great influence of easy transportation upon business and other property values, it is immediately evident that the few thousands of dollars necessary to hire the best brains in the country is nothing compared with saving the vast thousands possible study for the solution of this problem.

A permanent city planning commission in Oakland needs therefore immediately to set to work with proper funds to employ the best expert the country can produce to solve this very important problem.

EASIER FOR WORKINGMEN.

However this is only one side of the transportation question. Has Oakland ever solved the needs of the workingman for rapid transit from his home to the factory and industrial districts? With all the new lines of the Key Route and Southern Pacific, which, by the way, all point toward San Francisco instead of to the building up of Oakland's business center, students of the problem well know that there is not yet a real rapid transit line in the true sense of the word on this side of the bay, or rapid transit lines cannot exist on the ground level, because of the many street crossings.

Dr. Werner Hegemann will undoubtedly take up this important subject, particularly with reference to the lack of easy transportation lines coming into Oakland from Berkeley and the north. It now takes practically as long to come from Berkeley to Oakland as it does to go from Berkeley to San Francisco.

A city planning commission in Oakland, having complete data as to traffic and pointing of streets, also has also much to do in aiding the street department and park commission in gather-

Supposed Suicide Now Believed to Have Been Killed

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Oct. 15.—What at first appeared to be a suicide in a local boarding house of Miss Dorothy Haug of Knoxville, Tenn., was definitely established yesterday to have been a murder, and the local authorities have begun a search for the slayer.

The girl's skull had been crushed with a blunt instrument, and although a revolver, with one chamber empty, lay beside her body when it was found Monday morning, physicians declared she had suffered no bullet wound and no bullet had been found anywhere in the room she occupied.

BANDITS HOLD UP AND ROB POLICEMAN

Oakland Officer Victim of Trio With Drawn Revolver; Saves Trousers.

Take Pistol, Bicycle and Handcuffs and Make Their Escape.

Three bandits took a revolver, police whistle, handcuffs and bicycle from Patrolman James A. Gunter shortly after 4 o'clock this morning when he rode them down on his wheel to inquire their reason for wandering through the streets at that hour of the morning. The trio neatly divested Gunter of his policeman's equipment, but overlooked a purse containing $50 which he carried in his pocket.

After stealing the bicycle and revolver from Gunter the hold-up men disappeared down East Fourteenth street, but abandoned the bicycle after going about three blocks. It is believed that they escaped into the back country toward Pleasanton. Descriptions of the trio have been sent out to interior towns.

A dragnet composed of three posses of police was rushed to East Oakland from the Central station and the McAllister station. The bandits were not rounded up.

PATROLING ON BICYCLE

Gunter was patrolling his beat riding a bicycle, as he was able to cover more territory by this means. He saw three men at Twenty-first avenue. The bicycle made no sound and the men were not seen until they were within a few feet of him.

"Where are you going?" demanded the policeman as he dismounted from his wheel. Without a second's hesitation one of the three men tipped out a revolver and placed it against Gunter's stomach.

"What is it to you?" demanded the bandit.

Gunter has been about nine years on the force and replied coolly that he was making the regular inquiries concerning people at large on the street at night.

"You boys don't want to have a serious charge placed against you when you are all right and we have nothing on you," said Gunter. "You'll certainly be caught, so you might as well answer my questions, and if you're right I'll let you go on."

SOME SHOOTING THREATENED.

"None of your gun," interrupted the man with the gun. "Nobody'll grab us without a little gunplay. They'll have to shoot before they drop us and we'll do some shooting ourselves."

Two of the men held Gunter while the third took his whistle, handcuffs and bicycle.

"You'll find this stuff ditched about three blocks from here, except the revolver," explained the bandit. "Don't start anything before we make the getaway or it'll be bad for you."

Gunter hastened to the nearest police box and sent in the call. The men were rushed out in the police auto, but the three crooks, but they were roughly dressed and were apparently yeggmen.

Aviator Jewell Was Blown Out to Sea

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—No hope was held out today that Albert J. Jewell, the young aviator who set out from Hempstead Plains early Monday morning in a monoplane would be found. The theory that he was blown out to sea is generally accepted.

The body of the aviator was found in the city and all the available property for the completion of Oakland's park system.

With these facts to work upon the city planning commission would then be ready to secure the services of experts in the planning of cities, who would have to devote some time to all probability in making a comprehensive city plan for Oakland to grow by, providing for the opening of plazas and new traffic streets where necessary. A civic center with proper approaches, the beautification of the lake and water front, and other public squares, the housing of workingmen and the laying out of new protected zones near the factories for the industrial workers, if properly studied, will have tremendous stimulus upon the future of Oakland. Until Oakland has seen a plan of street changes, for instance, of north-south streets and municipal expenditures are bound to be more or less haphazard.

SAILOR IN SUICIDE PACT

Parting of the Ways Is Tragically Rehearsed

Last of Redlights Forms Motive for Self Destruction

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—As the result of what is believed to have been a suicide pact, the direct outcome of the closing of the Barbary Coast, Sam Hyer, a sailor, attached to the Yerba Buena island training station, and May Edgworth, a dance hall girl, were found unconscious from gas asphyxiation in the woman's room at 1051 Kearny street at 3:30 o'clock this morning. Both are now at the Harbor Emergency hospital and Hyer's condition is such that his life is despaired of. Miss Edgworth has a fair chance of recovery.

The woman has been for some time in Vallejo and returned to the "coast" last night, spending her first evening in the resorts since the no-liquor edict went into effect. The pair retired about midnight and other occupants of the Kearny street lodging house declare that they were both sober. At 3:30 this morning the odor of escaping gas was noticed by the night clerk and the room door forced. Two jets were turned fully on, the window was closed down and the electric lights were burning. The Edgworth woman has lived at 1051 Kearny street for about three months, and is about 20 years old. Hyer was apparently about 20 years of age.

ENGLISH PRINCE WEDS PRINCESS

Arthur of Connaught United to Duchess of Fife at St. James Chapel.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Prince Arthur of Connaught, son of the Duke of Connaught, governor general of Canada, was married today to Princess Alexandra Victoria, Duchess of Fife, eldest daughter of the widowed Princess Royal Louise. The ceremony took place in the ancient chapel of St. James palace, where both were baptized.

Fewer than 300 persons witnessed the ceremony, but not since the coronation of King George had there been such a gathering of royalty and notable personages. Besides King George, Queen Mary, Queen Mother Alexandra, the King and Queen of Norway and other royal relatives of the couple, the congregation consisted of the diplomatic corps, the British cabinet, members of the royal household and a few distinguished civilians. American Ambassador Walter H. Page wore plain evening clothes and was the only man there without a decoration.

The bride entered the chapel between King George and her mother. The five bridesmaids were Princess Mary, daughter of the King and Queen; Princess Maud, only sister of the bride; Princess Victoria and Princess Helena of Teck, daughters of the Duke and Duchess of Teck; and Princess Mary, the little daughter of Prince and Princess Alexander of Teck.

The pages were Prince John, the King's youngest son, and Prince Olaf of Norway, a popular favorite in England.

The ceremony was performed by the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Bishop of London, as dean of the Chapel Royal, and Canon Edgar Sheppard, sub-deacon of the Chapel Royal. After the ceremony the Archbishop of Canterbury delivered a short address, saying that while only a few had been able to be present at the ceremony, millions of Britons all over the world joined in rejoicing at the marriage of an English prince and princess.

Jack Frost Heralds Coming

Chilly Presence Is Felt

Jack Frost is near at hand. True, his white mantle has not yet been visible on the pavements and his white cloak has been absent from the hopesters, but the air has assumed a biting sharpness which betokens the coming of winter. Today began with a cold, clear atmosphere. It was just 52 degrees at 5 o'clock this morning in Oakland and San Francisco and this gradually increased to 54 by noon. Nevertheless the furs are being moved from the closets where they have been reposing protected by moth balls and the stores are doing a lively business with overcoats. Altogether the hunter's moon has brought the expected chilliness and the citizens are not only preparing for it, but are welcoming it as a proper visitor for the season. The cold spell seems likely to continue although it is not thought the mercury will drop any lower this week. The San Francisco weather man will make no prophecies as to the likelihood of sunshine for Portland week, but has given a hint of trouble by saying that rain may be expected on the northwest coast of California tomorrow morning. This, with a southeast wind, which is also predicted, may bring showers before Sunday. Nevada, which suffered a real cold wave yesterday, with a minimum temperature of 28 degrees, is warmer today and coming back to normal.

A modern classic design in circassian

The most popular wood illustrating chiffonier and bed. There is also a pretty dressing table to match.

We are showing a number of these simple, graceful designs in bedroom furniture; all the finishes, old ivory, mahogany, circassian walnut and the gray fumed sets especially designed for modern apartments and cottages, from moderate priced pieces; those shown above up to the rich reproductions from the best Grand Rapids factories.

The pieces shown are sensible and moderate prices, suitable for restricted space. The chiffoniers are $40.00, the Bedstead $37.50 and the Dressing Table $32.00. All sold on Jackson's dignified credit terms. The open cane-work in head and foot of bed, also back of chiffonier, is very attractive.

Our cement cottage in Clay street window

This week is very attractive, the bedroom in particular; it is furnished with a Louis XVI set in old ivory with shield mirrors, plate glass top on dresser table and dressing table, and open cane work in head and foot of bed; also back of dresser and dressing table.

CRIMINAL TRIAL MAY INJURE SLINGSBY CASE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15. — Now that Lieutenant Charles Henry Reynard Slingsby, R. N., retired, has come to this city to fight the charges made against the legitimacy of his three-year-old child, his defense has been complicated by the determination of at least one side of the District Attorney's office to prove that the boy he calls his own is a "changeling," with no right to share a million-dollar estate left by his putative grandfather.

Assistant District Attorney Louis Ferrari declared yesterday that the case against Dr. W. W. Fraser, the physician who admitted falsifying the birth certificate of the alleged Slingsby baby, would be pressed to a finish.

Ferrari expects the Appellate Court to reverse the decision in the trial of Dr. Fraser, who was released on the charge of having falsified a State document. If this follows, the trial of Dr. Fraser will come immediately after the taking of depositions in the "baby substitution" case.

JURISDICTION OF SECRETARY FINAL

Court Rules on Rejection of Petition Under Initiative and Referendum.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 15.—The Ohio supreme court ruled yesterday that the secretary of state has final jurisdiction in accepting or rejecting petitions filed with him asking for a vote of the people under the initiative and referendum law.

Secretary of State Graves recently refused to place on the ballots a referendum on the Warren and E. H. Taylor tax-ation laws upon the ground that the petitioners asking for such a vote contained thousands of forged names. While the court sustained the contention of Governor Cox, Attorney-General Hogan and others, the effect of the ruling of the state was final, that tribunal also decided to give a hearing to the supporters of the referendum who charged that the secretary of state "arbitrarily threw out bona fide petitions."

PADEREWSKI IS ILL; AUDIENCE DISAPPOINTED

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Ignace Jan Paderewski, the famous Polish musician, is ill at the Hotel Manhattan with a cold, which has troubled him for several days.

Although it was said at the hotel last night that he was not in bed nor under a doctor's care, he had to cancel an engagement at the Jersey City high school before the College Women's Club.

Twenty-five hundred persons who had bought tickets and who did not learn until the last moment that he could not appear were greatly disappointed.

VAUDEVILLE MAY HAVE CENSORSHIP

Suggestion by Judge Tappan to Be Presented to Oakland Mothers' Club.

As an outcome of the discussion of the vaudeville theater at the Social Workers' luncheon yesterday, Dr. Susan J. Fenton, president of the Child's Welfare League, will call a meeting within the next two weeks of representatives of mothers' clubs in Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley, as well as of many similar organizations, to discuss the question of censorship.

Judge Tappan will be asked to repeat the address given this noon on "The Influence of Vaudeville Songs and Jokes." Judge Tappan urges the selection of a live censorship committee of three men and three women of broad gauge who shall have the power to condemn improper performances or parts of performances when presented for further presentation of them shall be a misdemeanor.

"It is declared, said Judge Tappan, that the public is to blame for patronizing the theater. The public is awakened. We must begin from the other end. We must take the two drastic measures with filthy and lewd songs that we take with vicious dogs and Barbary Coasts. I am a man of the world, not a prude, but these things are too raw for me, and I am anxious to see the men who have the gall to put them on the stage."

Manager George Eddy of the Orpheum Theater was present, and made a few remarks, but submitted a thorough paper presenting the whole matter to the social workers from the theater manager's point of view at the luncheon meeting of the club. Mrs. Emily Overstreet, municipal references librarian, presented a study of the vaudeville in Oakland, with comments on the comparative situation in Los Angeles. "There are too many indecent monologues on the vaudeville stage," said Mrs. Overstreet, "by pretended drunkards just drunk enough to mislead and amuse for wit. The people appreciate and deserve better things, as one can tell who studies what the people applaud in these vaudeville houses. The mayor and chief of police are too busy with their other duties to serve as a censorship board in Oakland. We need a real board of competent persons who have the time to spare."

USE "CASCARETS" IF CONSTIPATED

Gently Clean Your Liver, Stomach and Clogged Bowels While You Sleep

Get a 10-cent box.

Take a Cascaret tonight to cleanse your Liver, Stomach and Bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous, upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out. Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil?

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means healthy bowel action; a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.

PLUMAGE RAISES STRANGE QUESTION OF IMPORTATION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Both frantic and fearful appeals reached the treasury department today regarding the enforcement of the tariff law inhibition against the bringing in of bird plumage. One man, whose dozen cases of grouse were held up at the New York custom house, telegraphed that if he took the plumage off this game, as required by the law, his customers would refuse to recognize the birds as grouse. The law, however, is explicit that grouse and partridges, bearing their plumage, cannot be brought into the country.

The problem of the algerette, worn on hats by women returning from abroad, is no problem at all for treasury officials pointed out that if algerettes could come in on women's hats the war would be made clear for a wholesale importation of them in evasion of the law.

STOP CATARRH!

Unless Properly Treated With Hyomei This Disease May Become Serious.

If you have catarrh, usually indicated by swelling, stopped-up head, drooping in throat, watery eyes, and morning choking, there is an irritated state of the mucous membrane which affords an ideal condition for the growth of disease germs, especially those of consumption.

Do not allow the dangerous germs which may be breathed into the throat and lungs to begin their work of destruction.

The easiest, simplest, quickest, surest and cheapest way to check catarrh is by the direct method, breathing Hyomei. This wonderful medicated air treatment does not drug and dehydrate the stomach, but is breathed in through the Hyomei inhaler, directly following and surely destroying all disease germs that may have been inhaled—kills and vitalizes the tissues effectively, renders catarrh infections no longer possible.

The unusual way in which Hyomei is sold is the best evidence of confidence in the treatment and dispels all doubts as to its curative properties. Money refunded to anyone whom Hyomei fails to benefit. A complete outfit, including inhaler and bottle of liquid, costs but $1.00. Extra bottles of liquid, if later needed, 50 cents. Druggists everywhere sell Hyomei.

CHINESE EDITOR MAY BE IN GRAVE DANGER

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—Just what will happen to the head of Tong King Chang, friend of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, newspaper publisher in this city and at present in China as a member of the Chinese national senate, is causing painful speculation for his friends in the local Chinese quarter. Last word from Chang left Tong's head on his shoulders, but since he has taken such a marked public interest in behalf of Dr. Sun in opposition to Yuan Shi Kai, the President of China, his admirers here are prepared for any sort of news from the Orient.

on Tong's interest in Dr. Sun, according to information received yesterday in this city by the Chinese Daily World. Since an attempt was made to assassinate Yuan Shi Kai during the inaugural parade in Peking October 10, great efforts are being made by the president and his followers to cut down discontent and opposition. All of Dr. Sun's friends are watched carefully to prevent them making any demonstrations in opposition to the present executive.

PARASITE MAY BE 'MEALY BUG' FOE

Japanese Insect to Combat the Pest Jeopardizing California Citrus Fruit.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 14.—Internal parasites of the "mealy bug," an insect pest which annually jeopardizes California's $240,000,000 citrus fruit industry, sent from Japan by Superintendent Smith of the state insectary, are under observation here by the state horticultural commission entomologist. It is believed the parasites will destroy the mealy bug.

Dr. Cook, state horticulturist, says that if they are citrus fruit growers will be saved immense losses. Smith was sent to the Orient about two months ago in the hope that a successful parasite for the "mealy bug" could be discovered. The "mealy bug" attacks citrus fruits by sucking out the juices.

BAGS BROWN BEAR.

BILLINGS, Mont., Oct. 15.—Albert, prince of Monaco, accompanied by a large party of personal friends, was a guest of the local Chamber of Commerce last night on his return from a three weeks' hunt in the wilds of Wyoming, between Cody and Sheridan, where the prince was lucky enough to bag a big brown bear, several deer and two mountain sheep. The prince was enthusiastic over his trip.

MOSQUITO EPIDEMIC.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Oct. 15.—Ten per cent of the people of this town are suffering from dengue, or bone-break fever, a painful but not serious malady caused by the bite of the mosquito. Public health surgeons are working to check the epidemic.

This Leaves the Skin Smooth and Hairless

(Boudoir Secrets)

The electric needle for removing hair is a new discovery to keep ladies into disfavor among beauty specialists, because quicker and better results are obtained with the aid of a paste made by stirring together a little powdered Gelatone and water. This is applied on the hairs not wanted and in 2 minutes washed off, and with it comes every trace of hair. The skin should then be washed to remove the remaining paste and it will be left smooth and spotless. Buy Gelatone in original packages only.
